STEPS TO GREATNESS

The greater challenge of university life is not for the student, but is a challenge for the college itself. If the student body does not present challenge of growth and activity for the school, then the school has no real purpose for existing.

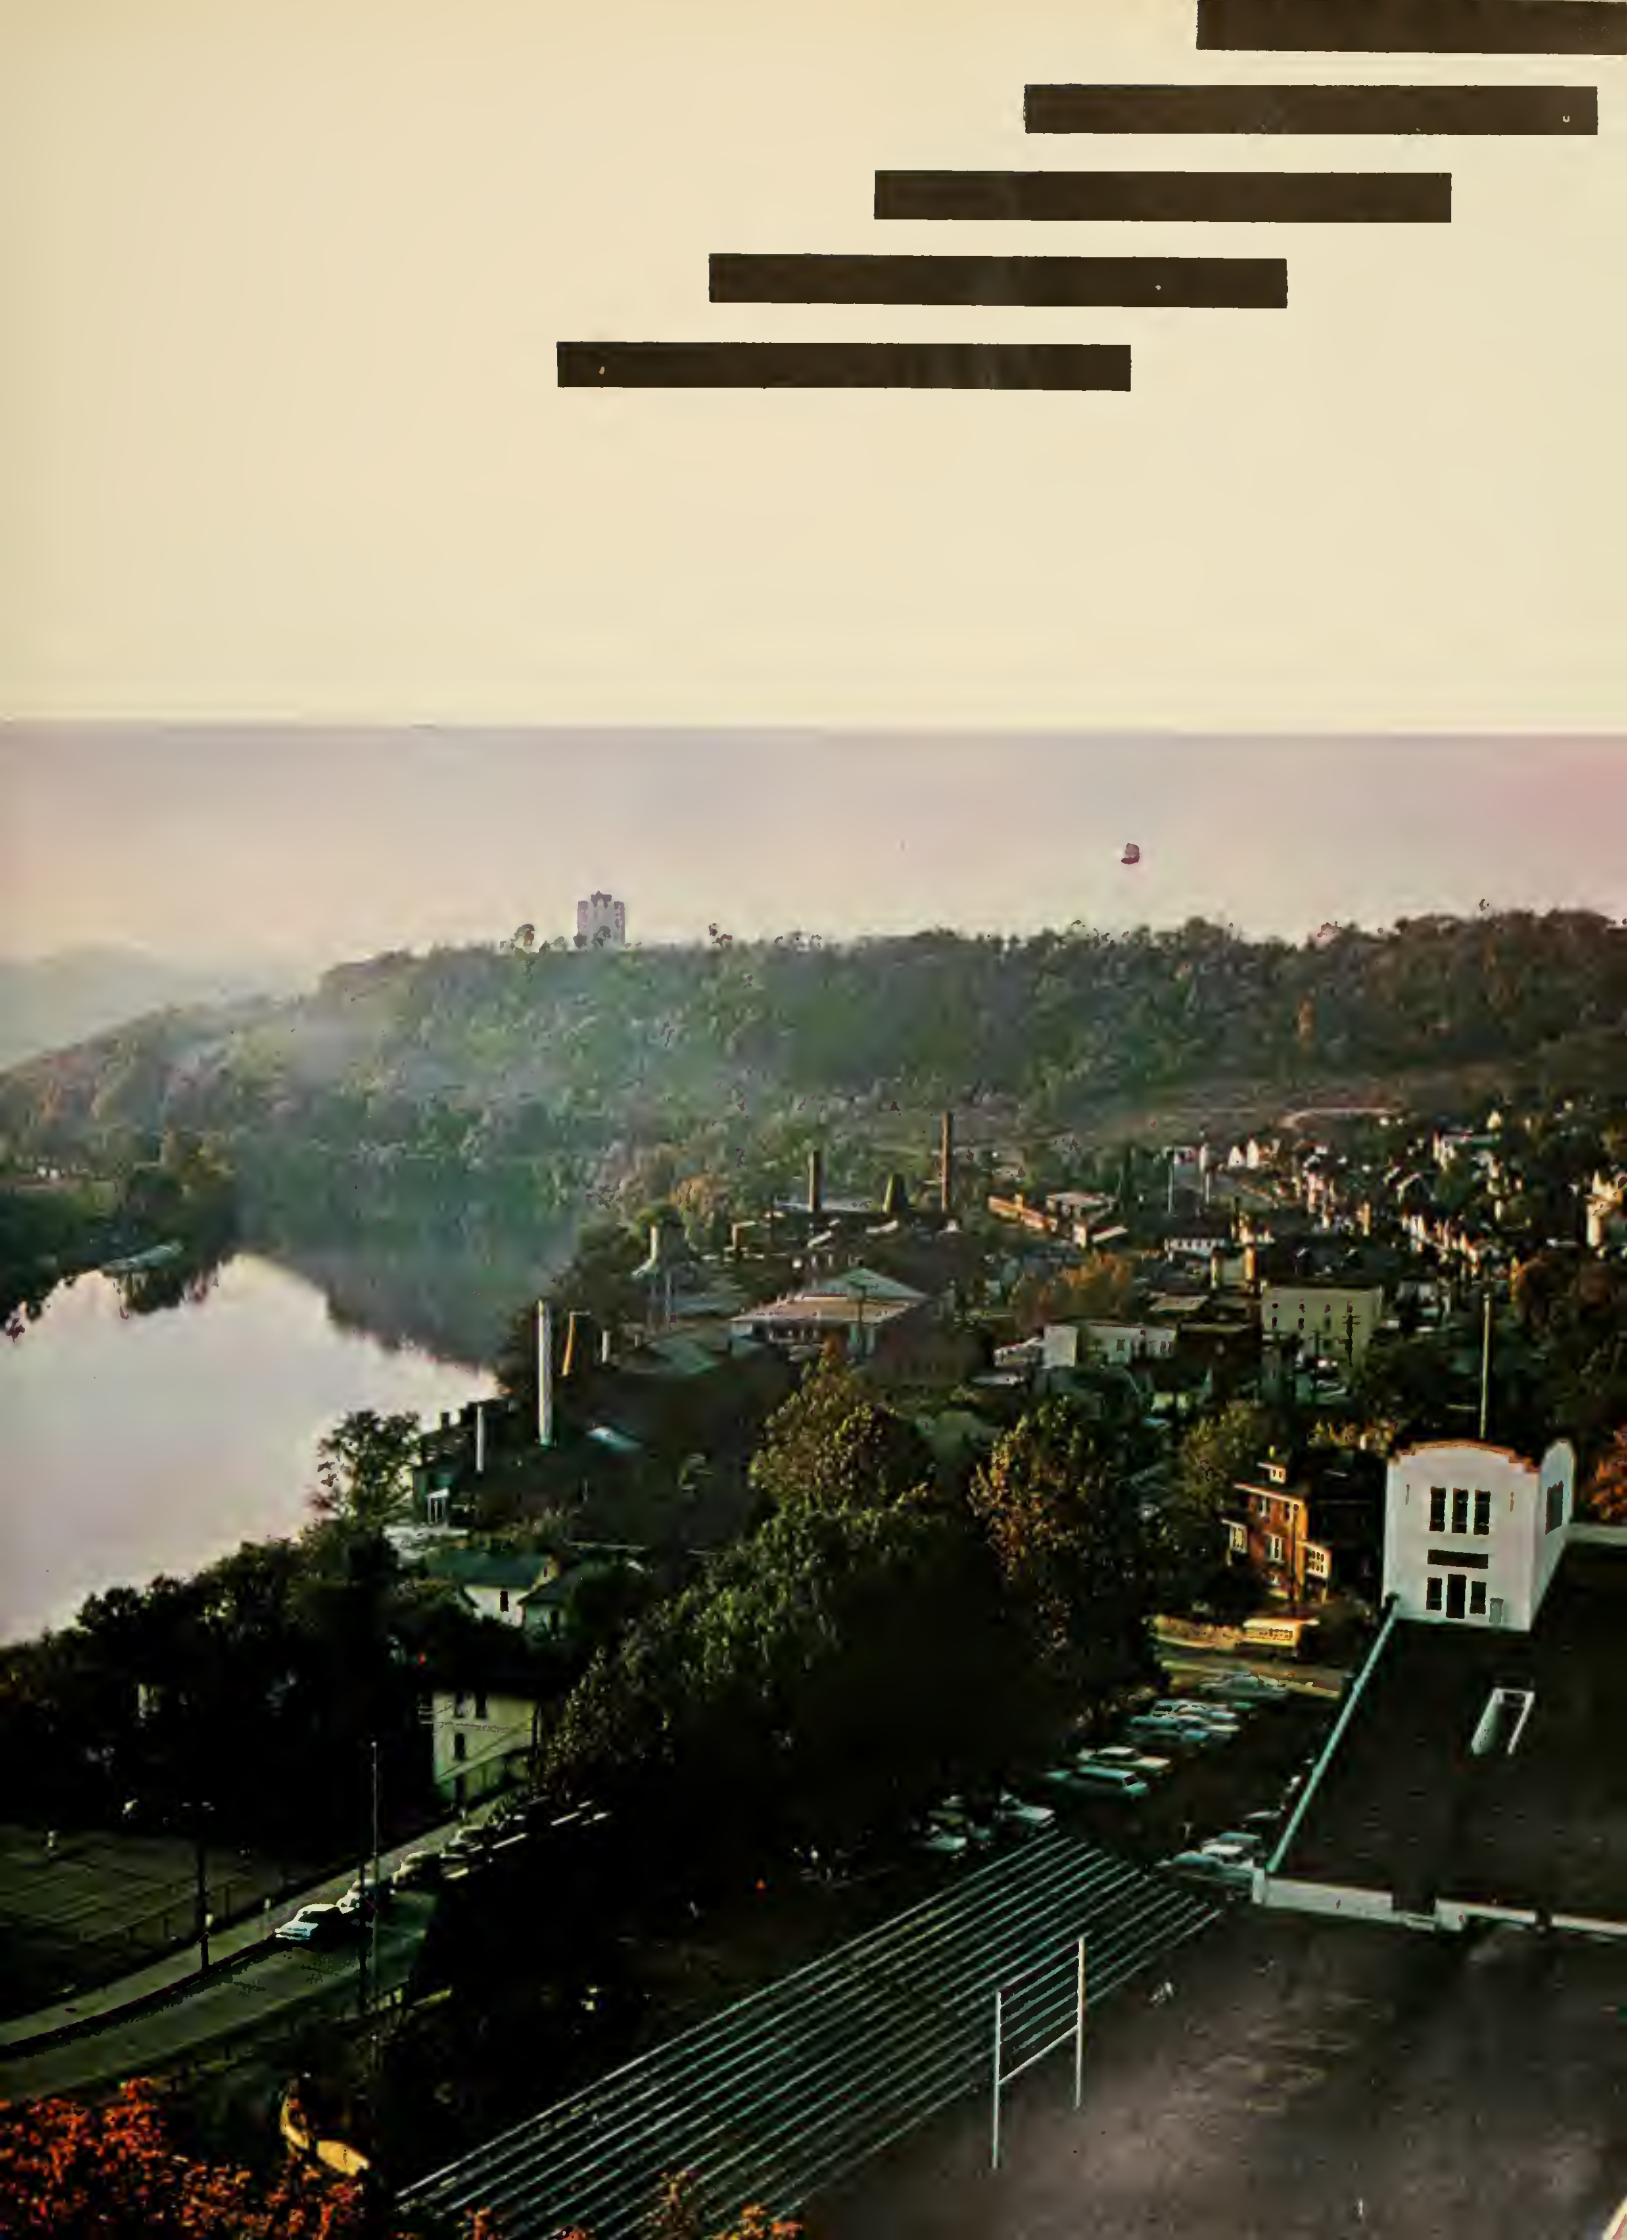

To be sure, the student must always climb higher on the steps of the university; there always must be one more height to reach. But it is the student's task to challenge the construction of that additional step. Students must demand that extra effort, and in doing so grow stronger hand-in-hand with both their classmates and the school.

It is harder to climb than to stroll along level road or dawdle down hill. But every man who wants to rise above the level of the beast desires ascent, not descent. Difficulties are stepping-stones leading to the top. Therefore, do not dodge them, do not run away from them.

—B. C. Forbes

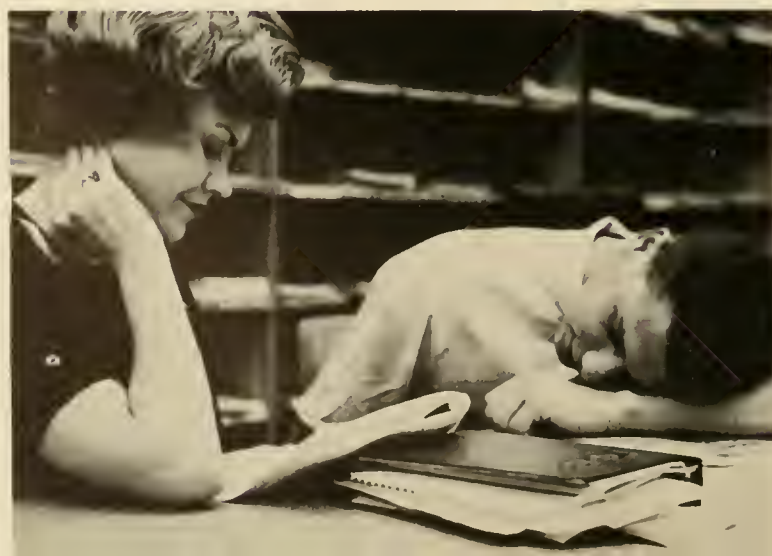

The sweetest and most inoffensive path of life leads through the avenues of science and learning; and whoever can either remove any obstruction in this way, or open up any new prospect, ought, so far, to be esteemed a benefactor to mankind.

The varied activities of the student are amplified in the summer season. Of course there's work, but the subject most talked about is play: the fun on the beach . . . the picnic at the park . . . the nostalgic stroll down Bourbon Street . . . that potato sack race . . . the cool breeze in the woods . . . the roar of engines at the Glen. Shouting and singing. Laughter and silence. This is the peace found by students in the freedom of summer.

FALL, BRIGHT BLUE BEANIES, ENDLESS

A University springs to life, and with it blooms the flowers of nostalgia for those returning,
the sprouts of newness for the neophytes.
A fresh serum is injected into the stream of activity.
There are new pledges, new waiters, new professors.
A new day has dawned.
It's the same kind of rain, the same hills, the same town.
But somehow, a vibrant wind whistles through the hearts of students.
And the tune echoes the spirit and respect of a great University.

 Roaring crowds and the excitement of the thuses.
 People walking in the spring, throughout the seasons. Watch

 People make webs. People are webs. Talking and thinking together, each draws others closer; each is held tighter.
 Each holds others in his turn at the spinning of the web.

THE CAMPUS COMES TO LIFE TO REMEMBER ITS FRIENDS.

Caught in a whirlwind!

A campus has been seized in a frenzy of parade, football, and dance.

Students spinning in a river of hyper-activity, with the only relief to be found Sunday morning.

Alums rotating on the welcome mats of the university.

And the Queens! Oh, how they look gilded upon the floats and majestic upon the emerald turf!

Then the force of the football game, a proud battle, almost won, shouts its thunder.

All these things throw back the spirit of the celebration.

But once a year the storm passes.

Once a year, for a week-end, the campus says 'thank you' to its founders and friends.

And all hope that they too can return in future years to be drawn again into the whirlpool of Homecoming.

ARE NOTHING WITHOUT PLACES.

Places to study: classroom buildings late Saturday afternoon . . . a still sadness, an echo of loneliness. No people! Monday morning their life blood steams in and out, talking, laughing. Here is someone drinking a between class Seven-Up. There is someone cramming for the next hour test. The library, books! But what are books without people to read them? What are places without people?

Places to live: the dorm room or apartment. Without the people in them they are merely places; with people, they become a personality in themselves. A coat thrown on a bed . . . an open book . . . last Saturday night's favor hung on the wall . . . people living in a place.

Places to party: Frat houses . . . "My Brothers" . . . "The Red Cellar' . . . places for fun. A place is no fun without people, though. People laughing, talking, shouting. People letting off steam, relaxing. People together, having fun in a place.

Places to think: a quiet walk by the stadium . . . sitting on the library terrace wall. It's time to be alone; to meditate, to think of trivial things as well as important. People alone thinking in a place.

Places to study . . . places to live . . . places to party . . . places to think. All are meaningless without people. Happy people, sad people, important people, not-so-important people. People together or alone in a place.

LEARNING TODAY FOR THE FLIGHT

TO THE FUTURE

What is the price of Experience? do men buy it for a song,
Or wisdom for a dance in the street? No, it is bought with the price
Of all that a man hath—his house, his wife, his children,
And in the wither'd field where the farmer ploughs for bread in vain.

It is an easy thing to triumph in the summer's sun
And in the vintage, and to sing on the wagon loaded with corn.
It is an easy thing to talk of patience to the afflicted,
To speak the laws of prudence to the houseless wanderer,
To listen to the hungry raven's cry in wintry season,
When the red blood is fill'd with wine and with the marrow of lambs.

It is an easy thing to rejoice in the tents of prosperity—
Thus could I sing, and thus rejoice; but it is not so with me.
William Blake

IN AGREEMENT WITH FATE EACH WILL PERFORM HIS

TASKS OF SUCCESS

When wilt thou be the humble suppliant's friend.
 And bring him where his suit may be obtained?
 When wilt thou sort an hour great strifes to end?
 Or free that soul which wretchedness hath chained?
 Give physic to the sick, ease to the pained?
 The poor, lame, blind, halt, creep, cry out for thee;
 But they ne'er meet with Opportunity.
 The patient dies while the physician sleeps;
 The orphan pines while the oppressor feeds;
 Justice is feasting while the widow weeps;
 Advice is sporting while infection breeds:
 Thou grant'st no time for charitable deeds:
 Thy heinous hours wait on them as their pages.

BUILDING AND LEAVING BEHIND

A CONTINUAL HISTORY FOR OTHERS

We have a legacy reaching back thousands of centuries—to the man who first drew a picture on a cave wall; made the first wheel; fashioned the first instrument of metal; or raised his eyes in worship to the stars. The progress of civilization has been uneven, but every generation can add something, be it little or much, to this heritage of the past. And today we face the greatest challenge history has ever known. Each one of us is a trustee of the past; we have the task of living up to our heritage—and adding something to it.

THE FINAL STEP . . .

Four years of steps—they were the friendly steps of the Freshman guides, helping you to "walk, not run" through that first difficult week. From then on you were on your own. You frantically raced to classes. Your steps were reverent as you walked to church. Gracefully, you and that upper-classman danced through Christmas and spring dances, year after year. And there was that time you had to go before your advisor—your steps were hesitating then!

But now—a new walk—a new rhythm guides you forward. It's June, and strains of pomp and circumstance are wafted on the warm breeze. You adjust that silly little hat with the dangling tassel. And suddenly, you're tall and straight and dignified and solemn. Triumphantly, but with a note of sadness, the procession winds its way to the Field House. Your steps are filled with purpose. You clutch your diploma—and, the end that is a beginning is here.

JOHN GOODLETT

Each year, thousands of students come to the University to prepare themselves for the future. They need guidance and direction to achieve their individual goals, and someone must assume the responsibility of providing this necessary help. The people pictured on these pages have directed all of their efforts to the fulfillment of this task. They must plan all university programs, set the education methods and standards, and efficiently handle the administrative headaches of a large university.

Their duties are numerous and difficult. They must educate thousands of students each year without allowing the process to turn West Virginia University into a sort of diploma factory. The individual student must be educated and prepared along with the thousands of his counterparts. Also, a satisfactory environment must be provided so that he may work and play comfortably and constructively.

A unified body of capable men and women is necessary to accomplish these tasks. They must be expert in their respective duties, be aware of the university's many problems, and be conscientious in their work. And so they are. Each one of these people is qualified, capable, and efficient in performing his individual duties with respect to the University as an entity.

Therefore, we picture and pay respect to our administrators, those people who have built our university, now maintain and improve it, and will continue to advance the name and standing of our University in the future.

WILLIAM WALLACE BARRON
Governor of West Virginia

GOVERNOR AND BOARD OF TRUST

Governor William Wallace Barron was educated in the public schools of Elkins and he received his law degree from West Virginia University College of Law. Prior to becoming governor, he served in the Army during World War II, was Attorney General, chairman of the Liquor Control Commission, a Randolph County member of the House of Delegates, and mayor of Elkins. Feeling very strongly that the progress of our University greatly reflects the progress of our state, Governor Barron takes a great interest in the operation of our University. The Governor is one of the Mountaineers' most loyal and enthusiastic fans, as evidenced by his loyal attendance at all of our home football games.

Governor Barron appoints the nine members of the Board of Governors who meet several times a year to formulate educational, administrative, and financial policies for the University. By staggering their terms in office, the Board is assured of having a constant roster of experience. These members are successful state leaders who devote much of their time to the difficult task of advising the University.

Dr. Paul A. Miller received his Bachelor of Science degree from West Virginia University in 1939. Always active in campus life, Dr. Miller was elected to Mountain and to Alpha Zeta, served as student assistant in biochemistry, and led the University Boxing Team as captain.

Dr. Miller assumed the responsible tasks as president of the University in January, 1962. Since that time the student body has received a realism of thought and a forward-looking challenge of betterment. To be sure, tangible advances have been made: ground-breaking for additional dormitories and new Forestry Building, approval of new student union building plans, improvements in student-administration communication, increased Appalachian Area study, new plans for a more modern fieldhouse and other facilities.

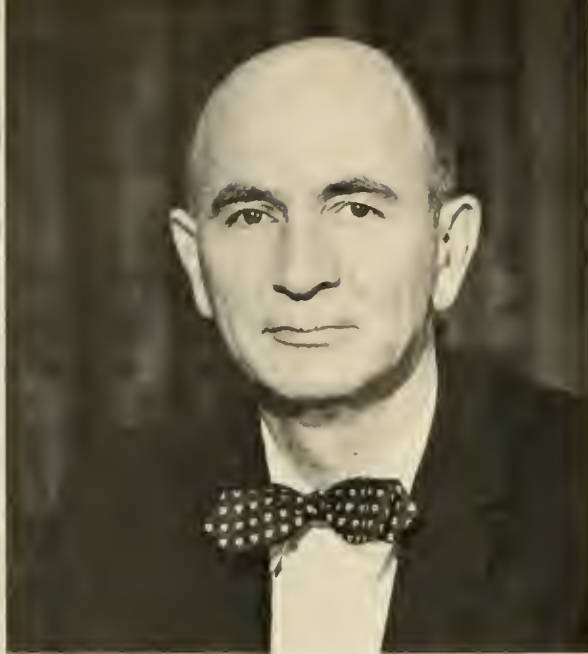

But if the one single credit must be given to the President, it must be for his untiring efforts for the improvement of individual student values. Clearly defining objectives, Dr. Miller proceeds to broaden opportunities for learning truth in the University.

Standing: Byron Kallam, Student Body President. Seated: Dorothy Willard, Student Body Vice-President.

The Executive Council, headed by the President of the Student Body, is composed of the presidents and vice-presidents of the various classes. The Council, which serves as an advisory board to the President of the Student Body, is essentially the executive branch of student government.

It organizes and supervises the activities of student government, including appointments and the committee system, and is responsible for initiating new programs. The accomplishments of this year's council include the construction of a new All-Campus Calendar, a revamped Civil Service System, the formation of several new committees, and an extensive evaluation of the role of student government in the University.

Those committee meetings aren't really all work.

Student Government applications are sorted and classified for fall selections.

West Virginia University Student Legislature.

Legislators ponder current proposal.

The Student Legislature, which is comprised of representatives elected from each college, acts as the policy-making branch of Student Government. Its basic purpose is to institute a helpful and meaningful program for the Student Body. It accepts or rejects bills and proposals submitted by the Executive Council, and under its jurisdiction are many student committees and organizations that submit their reports and plans for approval. This governing body appropriates Student Government funds, determines campus traditions, and coordinates the efforts of all subordinate governing agencies.

Informing the student body is the main task of the Awareness Commission. Theirs is the problem of providing thought-provoking programs of State Awareness, National Awareness and International Awareness to the student in order that he may expand his horizon of interests and prepare himself to face the problems of a complex world.

The Auxiliary Agencies perform a major portion of the routine work of Student Government. While the Public Relations Committee works to improve relations between Morgantown and the University, the Publicity Committee performs a similar function on a state-wide basis. The Elections Committee conducts all student elections, and the Finance Committee assumes the task of supervising the allocation of funds so that they are used fairly and efficiently.

The coordinators of Student Government committees help provide an array of activities for the campus and serve as an important public relations tool for the University. Coordinators are appointed by the Executive Council and are approved by the Student Legislature. Each committee, functioning independently, is individually responsible for the success of the activity. Various student week ends, projects, and the Cultural Series are the results of work by the student committees.

PRACTICAL APPLICATION

The West Virginia University Student Court consists of seven judges: the Emperor of Sphinx, Summit of Mountain, President of Mortar Board, President of the Associated Women Students, and three members appointed by the Student Body President. Jurisdiction extends to violations of the rules and regulations of the University except for rules promulgated by A.W.S. and offenses of a scholarly nature. Violations may be presented by the Executive Council, Student Legislature, the Director of Student Affairs, or any member of the student body. The Court is also constitutional interpreter for Student Government.

Girls on the Secretariat provide a vital, but often overlooked, service for Student Government. The secretaries type and serve as receptionists at the Student Government office in the Mt. Lair. They also assist with the filing system and help compile the scrapbook for the year.

Mr. James Watkins, a member of the University Administration, provides a vital communication link between the students and the Administration. Working closely with Student Government, Mr. Watkins helps to keep the channels of information functioning smoothly between the two groups.

ELLEN MAJOR

It's hard for one to imagine that this snow-covered library terrace does "come to life" each spring with the warmth of the sun's rays. Later in the spring on an early evening in May, this same scene is the setting of Link Day. The dreariness of this scene, broken by the passing of a few people, is an excellent contrast of the happiness and pride parents and friends feel as they watch each of the outstanding students become inducted into his particular class honorary.

Before one is chosen to membership in any honorary, he has proven himself in the fields of scholarship, leadership, service, and character. Not only have these individuals held major campus offices, but they have done those lesser tasks which must be done, but lack the honor of a prestige job. It is these people whom the MON-TICOLA honors in this section.

Each spring outstanding junior women who have excelled in scholarship, and service to the University are selected for membership in Mortar Board, senior women's honorary.

West Virginia University's Laurel Chapter of national Mortar Board was established in 1924. In an effort to promote University loyalty and to develop a finer type of college woman, this honorary strives to advance the spirit of service and fellowship among university women, to promote and maintain high scholarship, and to recognize and encourage leadership.

Mortar Board members don the traditional black caps and gowns as they work on their annual projects: Homecoming mum sale, distribution of a recommended reading list to high school seniors, awards to scholastically outstanding sophomore, junior, and senior women, and a graduate study program. Their special project this past year was the improvement of faculty-student relationships.

Mountain, ranking men's honorary, was founded in 1904 to foster Mountaineer spirit and serve the University, the state, and the nation. Each spring members are selected on the basis of outstanding scholarship, leadership, and service.

Special projects of this honorary are the Mountaineer Week Team, whose members visit state high schools to encourage students to further their education, and the Mountaineer Statue Fund to raise money for a bronze statue of a mountaineer. Mountain annually selects the Mountaineer who serves as a living symbol of the University at sports events. Among the social events are the traditional Mush and Milk Banquet and the Homecoming Dance.

To deepen the feeling for the mountaineer tradition, the honorary requires participation in a rigorous mountain hike prior to initiation.

These Spokes are formally initiated at the Link Day ceremonies with the traditional wheel formation symbolic of the campus' Big Wheel. Each Spoke leaves in her track many contributions to the University.

Spokes strive to promote spirit and interest among women students and alumnae in serving the University community. Sphinx, senior men's honorary, "acts as the sponsor and preserver of all such college traditions as it may find worth, and to serve the University." This honorary, which was organized in 1909, is composed of men possessing high qualities of leadership, scholarship, and service. It annually produces the Sphinx Talent Show and the Mother's Day Sing in which Greek and independent groups participate. Sphinx presents the Smith-Coburn Plaque for the highest freshman male average and Certificates of Merit to ten men in the freshman class with the next highest standing. The annual Steak and Champagne Banquet is the main social activity. In the spring of 1962, this organization was accepted as a chapter in the national men's honorary, Blue Key.

Chimes, junior women's honorary, "promotes the cultural and intellectual development of the woman, as well as the full development of the individual." Each spring members are chosen on the basis of scholarship, leadership, and service within the University community. This honorary was born in June of 1948 when Rhododendron, the then-existing junior women's honorary, became affiliated with the national honorary, Chimes.

During Freshman Week, Chimes holds a beanie sale and orientation program for freshman women. Other service projects include a party for women transfer students to help them become acquainted with the campus and a donation to the Chimes Loan Fund which aids women students in financial need.

In an effort to stimulate the cultural development of its members, Chimes has discussions with guest speakers and annually takes a trip to Pittsburgh to attend a play or concert.

Order of the Grail, the University's newest honorary, was organized in 1961. It is distinguished among the honoraries in that its members are selected solely on the basis of scholarship. The twenty-five men who rank highest scholastically at the end of their third semester at the University are selected as members of this junior men's honorary. Its name is taken from the legend of King Arthur in which the Holy Grail was symbolic of the striving of his knights for greater ideals in conduct. Order of the Grail primarily provides its members with opportunities for intellectual discussion. During the year, several speakers were heard at informal meetings and coffee-hours.

Li-Toon-Awa, sophomore women's honorary, was founded in 1927. Each spring its members are selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, and service, and they proudly wear the badge of crossed arrows and the headband, symbols of this honorary. Li-Toon-Awa takes its name from the Indian word meaning "friendship" and its members pledge themselves to help freshmen in any way to feel at home on the University campus.

Special projects include the Tee-Pee Tea for freshman women, the "Highbrow Hen Party" each spring for coeds with better than 3.0 averages, and the sponsorship of Freshman Projects Committee. The organization annually awards a scholarship to a deserving women student. Socially, the group has a big-little sister party and a party with Helvetia.

Helvetia, sophomore men's honorary, was founded in 1955. The name is the same as the native-tongue name for Switzerland whose mountains are so remindful of our own West Virginia hills; during the reign of Caesar, Helvetians was the name of a hardy, freedom-loving people who inhabited the area now known as Switzerland. Members, chosen on the basis of scholarship, leadership, and service, are chosen at the climax of their freshman year and assume membership and service during their sophomore year.

Special projects undertaken by this honorary are a freshman orientation program for men as well as assistance with men's physical examinations, construction of the mountaineer for Mountaineer Weekend, and sponsorship of the Campus Blood Donor Campaign. To raise funds, Helvetia sold campus pacs to male students during Freshman Week. At the Mother's Day Sing, this organization annually presents the Freshman Scholarship Award to a deserving male student.

Fi Batar Cappar, men's mock honorary, was established on the campus in 1914. "Its cardinal virtue is that of boosting the spirit of the University community." Members are chosen from campus social leaders and they must undergo a spirited and rigorous pledgeship before initiation. The badge of this organization is a small square of genuine leather which is fastened to the jackets of the members with a piece of brass from the ancient brazen calf.

Special projects include the donation of trophies for the prize-winning Homecoming floats and the presentation of a Minor Sports Trophy to an individual who excels in a minor sport.

The humorous antics of these men in bathrobes succeed in lifting the enthusiasm of the crowd at every thuse and home football game. With their colorful tradition and bold spirit, Fi Batar Cappar contributes an undefinable, yet essential spirit to the student body at West Virginia University.

Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, was founded on this campus in 1955 and is composed of forty former members of the Boy Scouts of America. "The purpose of this fraternity shall be to assemble college men of West Virginia University in the fellowship of the Scout Oath and Law, to develop leadership, to promote friendship, to provide service to humanity, and to further the freedom that is our national, educational, and intellectual heritage."

The members of this fraternity organize many worthwhile projects, such as ushering for University cultural programs, conducting guided tours of the campus, and assisting Student Government in carrying out some of its projects. At the beginning of each semester, Alpha Phi Omega successfully operates a co-operative student book exchange. Social activities include a biannual banquet, a picnic with Y.W.C.A., and a pledge-active game.

Every women enrolled at W.V.U. is a member of Associated Women Students. This organization is composed of three representative boards. The Judiciary Board, in cooperation with the Dean of Women's Office, governs policies for women on campus. The Residence Co-ordinating Council is a board composed of sorority house presidents and dormitory vice-presidents organized to co-ordinate rules and standards of behavior in approved University housing. The Program Board is the most important board of A.W.S. Programs are planned for women students with the aim of offering each individual opportunities to develop socially, culturally, intellectually, and spiritually, and thus increasing her role as an educated and competent woman. Each year representatives and offices are elected by the women on campus.

A.W.S. of West Virginia University is a member of I.A.W.S. (Intercollegiate Association of Women Students) which is an organization composed of women's governing units from more than 150 colleges and universities throughout the United States.

The 1964 MONTICOLA (meaning mountain dweller) represents many laborious hours of work which go into the production of the West Virginia University yearbook. Its theme of "Steps" was used to give as complete coverage of campus life as space permits. The staff has recorded almost every phase of campus life and activity in these pages.

The planning of the book is begun one year in advance with the selection of the various section editors and staff members and with the planning of the layout and material. Throughout the year the staff writes and edits, proofreads and rewrites, and anxiously anticipates that final distribution day, the day of rest.

Each semester the MONTICOLA presents tuition scholarships to students whose academic records and services to the University merit recognition. This year MONTICOLA premiered the first MONTICOLA Beauty Pageant, an evening of entertainment, color, and, of course, the 1964 MONTICOLA Queen and her Court.

"Athenaeum" originally meant, in Greek, a place of learning or storehouse of knowledge. The Daily Athenaeum is the campus newspaper of West Virginia University and has four daily editions a week. This paper, first published in 1887, is one of the nation's oldest student-edited daily papers. To aid the staff, which is composed of students in the School of Journalism, the Daily Athenaeum subscribes to the West Virginia Press Association and the Associated Collegiate Press. The campus paper is the most important means of communication from the University to the students. In this paper students express their opinions and official rulings from the University administration are published.

The Social Committee under the direction of Mary Ellen Dailey planned theme parties, the Favorite Author Review Series, debates, and midweek mixers.

Mary Ann Baughman and her Tournaments Committee organized an assortment of tournaments which were scheduled almost every week during the academic year.

MOUNTAINLAIR

Mountainlair, WVU's college union, has made even greater strides this year to include activities from every phase of campus life. Under the leadership of Robert McWhorter, Director, and Daniel O'Sullivan, Assistant Director, the Mountainlair Executive and Program Councils have planned a variety of campus activities for both students and faculty members.

Special events and projects for this past year include Spring Spree Weekend consisting of a carnival and dance featuring the Emeralds and a Four Saints concert. Mountainlair sponsored the Weavers concert after the Navy-West Virginia football game. Mountaineer Weekend started with the Powderpuff Football Game and Friday-night activities included a dance and jazz and folk music concerts. They sponsored the halftime activities of the football game between the Mountaineers and Virginia Tech and a victory party after the game featuring the Fabians. The Gateway Trio and the Cozy Cole Quintet played for the Saturday night concert of Mountaineer Weekend. Warren Covington and his Orchestra played for the annual Christmas dance. The first issue of the Lairiat appeared this past spring. It is published monthly and tells of coming Mountainlair events planned by the various committees.

Mountainlair has had a very successful year and the future seems still brighter as plans for the new 'LAIR come closer to realization.

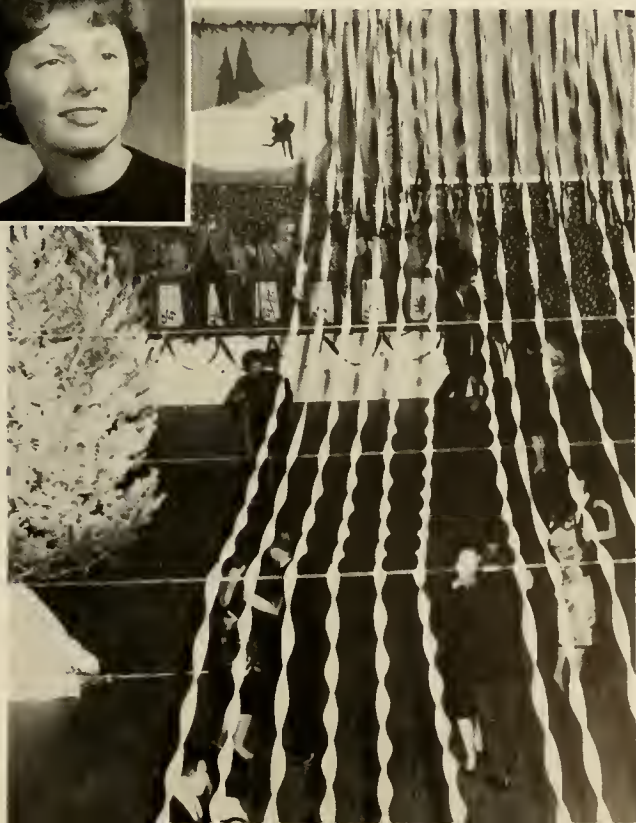

The Fine Arts Committee led by Sharon Nibert was responsible for scheduling Alexander Varnik's exhibit and a high school art exhibit held during Greater W.Va. Weekend.

The House Committee under the direction of Melinda Wilson sponsored the Freshman Mixer, a Mountainlair Open House held at the beginning of each semester, and a Dress-making Workshop for Mountaineer Weekend.

The Decorations Committee under the leadership of Sharyn Worrell decorated for all the Mountainlair dances and made the decorations for all the events of Spring Spree and Mountaineer Weekends.

The Mountainlair staff plays an indispensable part in the operation of West Virginia University's college union. Its secretary, bookkeeper, and receptionist, as well as the director and assistant director, are most willing to help students and faculty alike. The 'Lair's Food Service Manager is responsible for the running of the fountain service, the cafeteria, and the catering service.

The Films Committee headed by Betty Pokrywka planned the weekly movies, a Travel Adventure Series, the Kiddie Christmas Cartoon Show, and Mountaineer football movies of away games.

Stephen Moler and his Outdoor Recreation Committee started the Outdoor Club, sponsored a bus trip to the Southern Conference Basketball Tournament, and planned the Ski's Club trip to Seven Springs over semester break.

ALPHA EPSILON DELTA

Alpha Epsilon Delta, organized on the West Virginia University campus in 1931, opens membership to pre-medical students who have shown interest and excellence in their fields. The honorary's purpose is to encourage excellence in scholarship, to stimulate an appreciation of the importance of pre-medical and pre-dental education, to promote cooperation and contacts between students and educators, and to bind together similarly interested students. Each spring a plaque is presented to the sophomore medical student with the highest average. Another group project is an annual picnic. Dr. Lloyd R. Gribble serves the group as sponsor.

ALPHA DELTA THETA

Tau Chapter of Alpha Delta Theta, a professional medical technology sorority, was established on this campus a short six years ago. This organization strives to promote fellowship among medical technologists and to advance their professional standards. Some of the special projects include an Open House at the West Virginia University Medical Center in the fall, a Senior Tea in the spring, an Annual Blood Typing Project, and the Founder's Day Dinner.

A special honor was bestowed upon Tau Chapter during the 1963 Medical Technology Convention held in Minneapolis, Minnesota. Phyllis Yurik, past president of the local sorority and recent graduate in medical technology at W.V.U. was elected National Corresponding Secretary. The sorority is sponsored by Mrs. Miriam Fryer.

WVU AMATEUR RADIO CLUB

In 1960 a new group was organized at West Virginia University for the purpose of promoting interest in amateur radio. An active radio club station has now been established in the "tin can" with antennae which stretch between the library and chemistry buildings. The radio station is capable of sending and receiving messages throughout the United States. In times of disaster this radio station would prove very useful. By having a radio station of their own, the members gain experience necessary to receive their licenses, and greatly increase their knowledge of electronics. This year the club has received a $1000 transmitter and other useful equipment.

ALPHA KAPPA PSI

Alpha Kappa Psi, national professional commerce honorary, was organized on our campus in 1943. The seventeen members meet weekly with their advisor, Dr. Paul Hamelmen, striving to foster scientific research and to educate the public to appreciate and demand higher business ideals. Special awards of the group include the Alpha Kappa Psi Scholarship Key and the Distinguished Service Award. Among the projects of the group are assisting at registration, planning industrial tours, and sponsoring a Faculty-Student Reception for new members in the College of Commerce.

AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF INDUSTRIAL ENGINEERS

The West Virginia University Chapter of the American Institute of Industrial Engineers was established here for the dissemination of knowledge of the theory and practice of all aspects of industrial engineering and its allied fields and for the students' professional development. The special projects of the organization include arranging plant field trips to nearby industries, sponsoring the Industrial Engineering Department's basketball team in the Engineering Basketball League, and the Big Brother Program. In addition, speakers from the professional ranks of Industrial Engineering are invited to speak on related topics to assist the student in furthering his interests within his chosen field. Mr. J. Temple Black serves as advisor of the organization.

AMERICAN PHARMACEUTICAL ASSOCIATION

The purpose of the student branch of the American Pharmaceutical Association is to increase the students' awareness of the opportunities and values which accompany their profession. Since its organization on the West Virginia University campus in 1948, the group has worked to fulfill the obligations of its purpose. In order to gain more insight into the career of the pharmacist, the members visit a manufacturer of pharmaceuticals to inspect both the operating and research facilities. Each year the organization sponsors a reception for new pharmacy students in the fall and a picnic in May rounds out the year's activities. The group also participates in National Pharmacy Week. Dr. Charles Blissitt sponsors the organization.

AMERICAN SOCIETY OF CIVIL ENGINEERS

The Student Chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers was established on the West Virginia University campus to provide a mutual ground where graduates and undergraduates in civil engineering could discuss recent advancements in their profession. The special projects of the organization include arranging plant field trips to nearby industries and inviting speakers from the professional ranks of civil engineering with the varied phases of their field. The major social activity is the annual picnic held in the spring which allows students and faculty to discuss civil engineering and its future as a leading engineering science. Professor Wilfred Baker serves as the group's sponsor.

AMERICAN SOCIETY OF MECHANICAL ENGINEERS

The American Society of Mechanical Engineers extends the learning of the students beyond classroom instruction and keeps him abreast of the latest developments in his field. This organization promotes professional awareness within its membership through activities such as participation in the national competition for preparation and presentation of technical papers and enthusiastic attendance at the yearly A.S.M.E. Student Convention.

Social functions include the annual spring picnic and serve to spur fellowship among the student and faculty membership. This year A.S.M.E. sponsored the Mechanical Engineering Department's basketball team which competes in the Engineering Basketball League. Mr. Dean E. Bluman serves the group as faculty adviser.

ARNOLD AIR SOCIETY

This Air Force R.O.T.C. honorary is open to advanced and basic cadets who have maintained a certain grade criteria, both in general academic work and in Air Science. To aid in the development and production of Air Force officers, to further the purpose, traditions, and concepts of the United States Air Force, and to support Aerospace power and its role in national security are the purposes of the organization. Each year the Colonel Compton Award is presented to the most outstanding senior. This year they have assisted in the establishment of "Angel Flight," with the Queen of the Aerospace Ball chosen from the members of "Angel Flight."

AIR FORCE ROTC SPONSOR CORPS

The Air Force R.O.T.C. Sponsor Corps was organized this year as an auxiliary of the Arnold Air Society. Its 25 members hope to soon be affiliated nationally with Angel Flight. The purpose of the group is to promote the interest of the college woman in the armed forces. Members of the Corps march in drill formations, do clerical work, and help co-ordinate the Aerospace Ball. Community service projects this year included conducting a drive for Christmas gifts in cooperation with the County Mental Health Association. They also donated Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets to needy families.

ART SOCIETY

To further interest in art on the West Virginia University campus and to provide an opportunity for students who share this interest to associate with one another are the purposes of the Art Society. One successful project is the Sales-Rental Art Gallery. Every afternoon the lounge of Science Hall is kept open to display paintings for sale or rental. Rent on a painting is five per cent and prices range from two or three-dollar water colors to ninety-five-dollar oil paintings. Sales' profit from the Sales-Rental Art Gallery helps finance the spring Pittsburgh trip to the Carnegie Museum for the group.

BETA ALPHA PSI

Alpha Psi Chapter of Beta Alpha Psi was organized on the West Virginia University campus in 1957. This group acts as a medium between professional men, instructors, students, and others who are interested in the study of accounting. The twelve members meet bi-monthly with their sponsor Mr. Charles Skaggs. Among projects of Beta Alpha Psi are tutoring sessions, community help, and field trips. A Christmas party and spring picnic highlight the social agenda.

BLOCK AND BRIDLE

West Virginia University's Block and Bridle Club was organized in order to promote high scholastic standards in animal sciences, and to bring about a closer relationship among workers interested in animal science. Each year the members participate in the Fall Livestock Judging Contest and the Little Eastern Livestock Show. The National Headquarters annually presents a Merit Trophy Award to the member who displays creditable scholarship. In addition, the outstanding senior member is honored with an award. Social highlights of the group are a hayride, square dance, and picnic. Dr. J. L. McBee and Dr. K. M. Kerr are the advisors of the organization.

DELTA SIGMA DELTA

Delta Sigma Delta was the first fraternity organized in the field of dentistry and its growth has been synonymous with the growth of dentistry throughout the world. The fraternity had its origin at the University of Michigan on November 15, 1882.

Delta Sigma Delta has the advantage as a professional fraternity of banding together men of like-mindedness with common aspirations and aims. These aspirations and aims, when "pooled" cooperatively, extend far beyond any college campus in prompting "scientific, ethical, and professional progress."

Now, as at the time of its founding in 1882, Delta Sigma Delta has as its objectives to keep high the standards of dentistry by inculcating in the minds of dental students and practitioners a spirit of fraternal cooperation toward scientific, ethical, and professional progress.

DISCIPLE STUDENT FELLOWSHIP

The forty members of the Disciple Student Fellowship are offered several opportunities through the week to meet and mix with one another. Seminar studies are held each Sunday morning, and vespers are held on Sunday evenings. A social open house is scheduled every Friday evening. The student lounge in the First Christian Church is the meeting place for other activities. Organized on the West Virginia University campus in 1953, the Disciple Student Fellowship has as its goal to provide religious training and guidance for the Christian Church students. Special projects of the group include a Thanksgiving Vesper Service, a Christmas program, a spaghetti supper, and an annual spring retreat. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Walls serve as sponsors.

ETA KAPPA NU

The Beta Rho Chapter of Eta Kappa Nu, national electrical engineering honorary, is dedicated to accomplishing two primary objectives. The first is to mark, in a fitting manner, those who by outstanding scholarship, exemplary character, and dedicated service have brought honor to their Alma Mater and to the electrical engineering profession. The second is to encourage and assist the professional growth of its members, all electrical engineering students, and the Department of Electrical Engineering.

HILLEL FOUNDATION

In 1928 the Hillel Foundation, an organization for Jewish students, was founded at West Virginia University. Its purposes are to provide the individual with insight into the religious and cultural expressions of the Jewish people and to encourage participation in campus and Hillel activities. Besides sponsoring intracampus cultural meetings, the Hillel also provides an excellent location for dances and discussion groups. Regularly scheduled events include Friday evening services and buffets on Sunday afternoon. Rabbi Herbert J. Wilner is the Foundation Director.

HOME ECONOMICS CHAPTER

The West Virginia University Home Economics Chapter is affiliated with the State and American Home Economics Associations. The objectives of the chapter are to provide for the professional development of college home economics students by promoting professional attitudes and interests, and to promote public understanding of the field of home economics. This year the members sold UNICEF Christmas Cards and actively participated in the program of the state convention at Jackson's Mills. The Chapter also presented programs throughout the year to provide the home economics majors with a better understanding of their profession. Miss Babette Graf is the advisor.

KAPPA PSI

Kappa Psi Pharmaceutical Fraternity is the professional pharmacy honorary for men. It was established at West Virginia University in 1923. Since that time the men have striven to carry out the purposes of the honorary, which are to promote pharmacy and to conduct a fraternal organization for the mutual benefit of its members. The junior pharmaceutical student achieving the highest academic average each year is honored by having his name engraved on a plate which is placed in the Dean's office. The senior award is the Asklepois Key. Dr. Earl Core serves as sponsor for the group.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS CLUB

The Industrial Arts Club, established here 16 years ago, is dedicated to the recognition of outstanding industrial arts students. The Club has a triple objective. One goal is the advancement and growth of the individual; a second is advocating a strong and dynamic organization capable of shaping sound educational policies in the field of the industrial arts. The third goal is improving and advancing the quality of industrial arts training in public schools.

The group's major project is the entertaining of high school students interested in college study of industrial arts at "Steak Fry Time" in the fall and in the spring. Dr. Thomas Brennan and Mr. A. K. Ault serve as co-sponsors of the organization.

LAMBDA KAPPA SIGMA

In 1960 Lambda Kappa Sigma, women's pharmacy honorary, was organized on the West Virginia University campus. The purpose of the sorority is to further the association between student and professor, as well as increasing the interest of women in pharmacy. Social activities include the Initiation Banquet and the reception for incoming pharmacy women students. Each year the members prepare and present Easter favors for children in the University Hospital. This year the group sponsored various money-making projects which enabled several members to attend the biennial international convention of Lambda Kappa Sigma in Memphis, Tennessee. Sponsor of the group is Miss Helen Pavlech.

MU PHI EPSILON

The Epsilon Mu chapter of Mu Phi Epsilon, national music sorority, was organized on the West Virginia University campus in 1950. It has for its purpose the recognition of scholarship and musicship and strives to serve others through the advancement of music. Each year the organization awards a $100 scholarship to a summer music camp to some deserving student. It also presents two musical concerts throughout the year. A special social activity is its annual Founders' Day program. This year Mrs. Ruth Drucker served as advisor for the group.

The goal of Kappa Phi, national sorority for Methodist college women, is "But to Serve." Pi Chapter directs youth groups at Scott's Run Settlement House, visits patients at Sundale Rest Home, babysits at Wesley Church, and aids as receptionists for Vincent Palotti Hospital in fulfillment of this aim. Each year Kappa Phi sponsors an Easter Sunrise Service for the student body of West Virginia University, as well as a meal in the Upper Room for its members and sisters at Wesleyan College.

Pledging is held in October and culminates in a pajama party and initiation with the active members. Kappa Phi plans a spring banquet in conjunction with Sigma Theta Epsilon, Methodist men's fraternity and sends delegates to the National Conference in June. Under the guidance of its sponsor, Mrs. Quintus Wilson, Kappa Phi is dedicated to helping "every Methodist woman in the University world to become a growing Christian and an active participant in the church of today and tomorrow."

Music Educators National Conference was organized at WVU in 1946. The purposes of the organization are to prepare its members to be well-informed future educators and to keep them abreast of news in music education. These purposes are fulfilled by the members subscribing to a bi-monthly magazine, Music Educators Journal. At the monthly meetings speakers from the various music fields lecture on their travels. The speakers try to impress upon the organization that they, probably, would not have continued in the field of music if their music teachers during childhood had not left a lasting impression. The speakers also try to suggest teaching techniques that are impressive since their audience consists of music educators of the future.

NEWMAN CLUB

The Newman Club, established at West Virginia University in 1916, is dedicated to the religious, educational, and social welfare of Catholic students. Weekly meetings are held on Wednesday evening in Newman Hall, the center of club activity, followed by a social hour. Among the various special projects conducted by the 200 members are a Christmas party for underprivileged children and a drive to collect toys for a nearby orphanage. The numerous social activities include a Christmas party, pizza party, picnics, and hayrides. Newman Club is under the direction of Father Stan, MacNeelin.

ORCHESIS

Thirty personnel, under the direction of Mary Kathryn Wiedebusch, meet weekly in the new dance studio of Elizabeth Moore Hall. Orchesis is a modern dance workshop that functions as an extension of modern dance classes. It strives to offer to the interested students the opportunity for extra-curricular creative study, composition, and performance, and to maintain a high standard of artistic integrity.

The members prepare for months to present their annual spring production in Reynolds Hall. The ancient Greek myth, Pygmalion, was the theme of the presentation this year. Members of the modern dance workshop, under the direction of Mrs. Wiedebusch, choreograph the entire production. Each spring parts of the production are videotaped and presented in a thirty-minute broadcast from Pittsburgh. This show is then presented on several West Virginia television stations throughout the year. Tryouts for Orchesis are conducted three times a year. The only requirement is that the person must have had one semester of elementary dance. Members of Orchesis then select new members on the basis of their ability, interest, and originality.

PERSHING RIFLES

"To foster a spirit of friendship and cooperation among men in the military department and to maintain a highly efficient drill company" is the purpose of the Pershing Rifles. This group was organized on the West Virginia University Campus in 1955 and now has approximately 75 members. This group, under the able leadership of Lynwood Ireland as Commanding Officer, won first place in the St. Patrick's Day Parade and also gave an outstanding performance in Winchester, Virginia. Fall and spring bivouacs, inter-company competition, and drill meets are among their special projects. This year Janet Crisswell was selected as sponsor by the Company. Capt. Scabbard and Blade, the national R.O.T.C. honor society, was founded at West Virginia University in 1916 to develop better military-civilian relationships, encourage potential officers, and spread information concerning military requirements. The twenty-eight active members and eleven pledges of the honorary serve the University through such activities as acting as honor guards for the Homecoming and Military Ball Queens and conducting the flag-raising ceremonies at sports events. Each month Scabbard and Blade selects one outstanding cadet from each of the four academic classes and designates him "Cadet of the Month." The members of Scabbard and Blade climax the activities of the year with a banquet prior to the Military Ball.

Captain Wayne E. Shaffer, Infantry, serves as advisor to Company C of the Second Regiment, the local chapter of the national honorary.

Traditionally the advanced ROTC Companies at West Virginia University each select one co-ed to represent their group as a ROTC Sponsor in various parades and drills during the school year. These lovely ladies help their commanders at various military functions and participate in Greater West Virginia Weekend ceremonies. From the group of sponsors the queen of the Military Ball is chosen each year and all the girls reign over the "half-time" ceremonies at the dance.

Chosen on the basis of leadership and beauty, the ROTC sponsors add charm and dignity to every phase of military life on the West Virginia Campus.

In another season of fine performances, West Virginia University's traditional all-male Marching Band displayed outstanding spirit, color, and pageantry in their snappy gold-and-blue uniforms and precise formations under the competent direction of Mr. Budd A. Udell. This group executed field formations, supplemented by a commentary, for the entertainment of Mountaineer fans during half-time activities. This year's drum major, David Walker, and the two twirlers did a fine job with their talent and leadership to add to the success of the performances. The band also performs at thuses, and marches in the Homecoming Parade. The spirit and enthusiasm of this group are exemplified by the fact that more than half of the eighty members are non-music majors.

PHI EPSILON PHI

Phi Epsilon Phi, national botanical honorary, aims to further the study of botany and the effective teaching of it in school, to incite interest in botanical research, and to encourage high scholastic attainment. Founded in 1929 at West Virginia University, the organization has membership open to students and faculty who can, through working together, extend their interest in botany beyond the classroom. Phi Epsilon Phi allows a great deal of freedom in the exchange of ideas among its members and in the educational activities it undertakes.

PHI MU ALPHA SINFONIA

Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia Fraternity of America was established at West Virginia University in 1950 in order to promote a higher degree of music appreciation among its members. Special activities of Phi Mu Alpha include its well-known Jazz Concert and ushering at all School of Music recitals. On the social calendar are events such as the annual "Smoker" for freshmen men and the yearly picnic in the spring. This year Phi Mu Alpha has also sponsored tickets and rides to the Pittsburgh Symphony Concerts. Mr. Jon Enaberg and Mr. Budd Udell serve as co-advisors to the fraternity.

PI TAU SIGMA

The Pi Gamma Chapter of Pi Tau Sigma was established at West Virginia University on March 31, 1942. The purposes of this honorary are to foster the high ideals of the engineering profession, to stimulate interest in coordinate departmental activities, to promote the mutual professional welfare of its members, and to develop in the students of mechanical engineering the attributes necessary for effective leadership and responsible citizenship.

Annually, an engineering handbook is given to the outstanding junior in mechanical engineering and a certificate is presented to the freshman in this field having the highest grade point average. Social activities for the group include a combined honorary banquet each fall and a spring banquet, both of which are held to honor the pledges. Mr. James F. Hamilton serves as the group's sponsor.

PROFESSIONAL RECREATION SOCIETY

Professional recreational services for the University, community, county, and state are planned and promoted by the 25 members of the West Virginia University Professional Recreation Society. Organized on the West Virginia University campus in 1956, the club has as its goal the promotion of professional attitudes among recreation majors. At various times throughout the year they sponsor workshops on campus. On the social side, annual outings, ski trips, and a banquet are included in the group's activities. John G. Scherlacher and Joseph M. Hutchinson, Jr., serve as co-sponsors.

SIGMA DELTA

Sigma Delta was organized on the West Virginia University campus in 1961 for the purpose of bringing together university women of the Jewish faith into a social sorority. The fourteen members of the University's youngest sorority hope to reactivate the charter of the national sorority, Sigma Delta Tau. On the social calendar, teas, listening parties, and holiday and spring formals are part of the organization's activities. This year the girls participated in "Operation Santa Claus"—a drive to collect Christmas gifts for the patients at Weston State Hospital. Mrs. Lawrance DeLynn serves as sponsor.

SIGMA DELTA CHI

Each month nineteen members with their advisor, Professor Paul Adkins, meet to plan such projects as selling programs at home basketball games and to listen to qualified lecturers speak on various aspects of journalism. The purpose of Sigma Delta Chi is to assist members in acquiring the principles of journalism and to advance the standards of the press by fostering a higher ethical code. Annually the group awards a scholarship to an outstanding journalism student and plans a spring banquet co-sponsored by Sigma Delta Chi and Theta Sigma Phi.

Sigma Tau Sigma, the national student tutoring society, was organized on the W.V.U. campus in the spring of 1959. It is composed of over 100 students who have a 3.0 or better over-all average and who are of junior or senior standing. The group's purpose is to supply available tutors to students desiring help in any chosen course. Four tutoring periods are offered per semester and students receive six hours of instruction per period. In addition to offering tutoring services to the student body, Sigma Tau Sigma sponsors a "Book of the Year," which all students are encouraged to read in order to widen their intellectual horizons. A $100 scholarship is also granted each year to a student financially and scholastically deserving of the award. Dr. Donald J. Horuath is the advisor for the organization.

SIGMA THETA EPSILON

Sigma Theta Epsilon, the national Methodist fraternity for college men, was established on this campus in 1939. The primary goals of the fraternity are preparation in the art of living by Christian ideals and promoting fellowship for all men of Methodist preference. The members are taught to apply the ideals of Christian honor and character to their lives through private worship. A special project of the group is lay-preaching activities in area churches. Wesley Foundation, the center of group activities, is the scene for the Wednesday evening meetings, parties, and the annual pledge-active banquet. Stanley Farr is the group's sponsor.

THETA SIGMA PHI

Theta Sigma Phi, women's journalism honorary, was founded on this campus in 1947. Its purpose is to encourage journalism efforts on campus, help members become acquainted with prominent women of the literary world, and keep members informed of opportunities in journalism. Annual awards are presented to the best female reporter and the runner-up on the "Daily Athenaeum." Each year the Masthead Award is presented to a prominent state woman journalist. A journalist banquet is also sponsored each year in cooperation with Sigma Delta Chi. Mr. James Young serves as sponsor for the honorary.

VARSITY CLUB

To create a closer unity among men participating in university sports is the purpose of the W.V.U. Varsity Club. Organized in 1961, this club is one of the most active on campus. Its forty members sponsor many service and social projects throughout the year. Among the activities are selling football programs, sponsoring a campus hootenanny, presenting a "Man of the Year" award to an outstanding person in athletics, and sponsoring a Varsity Club banquet in the spring for members, coaches, and the public. The climax of the year is the presentation of two $150 scholarships to outstanding men in sports who are not on full athletic scholarships.

Wesley Foundation, which is devoted to the ministry of the Methodist Church on the campus, provides a second home for students seeking fellowship, guidance, and worship. From the time of the Northeastern Regional Conference in August to the meeting of State Methodist Student Movement on a spring weekend, over 150 members participate actively in the religious life of the Foundation, which was established in 1925.

In conjunction with the theme of the Campus Ecumenical Council, "For the Life of the World," Wesley Foundation has concentrated this past year on assessing the civil rights question and the political workings of the Church and State. Programming, planned by students at the fall retreat, focuses on Sunday evening meetings which include a fellowship supper, devotions, and a speaker, student panel, or film. Sunday morning religious discussions have been led by Dr. Wesley Bagby and Dr. Emory Kemp, covering topics from "Moral Man and Moral Society" to "The Challenge of Christ." Study courses in the Bible and the history and policy of the Methodist Church have been directed by Rev. David Kirk, minister to students.

During the Christmas season, Foundation members "adopt" underprivileged children. Intramural sports competition plays a prominent part in recreational activity, as does the Foundation's folksinging trio, "The Circuit Riders," who took top honors in the winter hootenanny contest. Members of Wesley Foundation observe the Lenten season with weekly Communion services.

WESLEY FOUNDATION

Y. W. C. A.

The largest voluntary women's organization on campus, Y.W.C.A. has as its purpose "to provide an organization where women students may unite for discussion and campus-community service." Meeting every Wednesday evening, the members participate in programs on a wide range of subjects: mononucleosis, student politics, book reviews, and human rights, to name but a few.

Service to the community and campus is carried out through such projects as the co-ordination of student-volunteer settlement house work, Campus Club Nursery, all-campus coffee hour, and the annual sale of calendars listing campus events. The "Y" also offers social activities such as the Freshman Tea, membership dinner, and a two-day stay at Lake-of-the-Woods for cabinet members.

Y.W.C.A., through its national and regional conferences, offers opportunity to travel and meet other "Y" members in New York City, Puerto Rico, Philadelphia, and Chicago. International travel is possible by participating in summer projects in South America, Europe, and Asia.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Charles Shetler, who has served as Executive Director for two years, the Y.W.C.A. at W.V.U. enjoys the reputation of being one of the best organized "Y's" in the Middle Atlantic Region.

The University 4-H Club is an organization which provides for educational, social, and service activities for present and former 4-H Club members who are students at West Virginia University. Its main activities include cultural programs, retreats, business meetings, recreation, and sponsorship of the "host program" where county club members, leaders, and extension workers visit the campus for scheduled weekend tours. In addition, the club sponsors and provides the leadership for the Scott's Run Settlement House 4-H Club. The members of the W.V.U. 4-H Club participate individually and as a group in special campus life programs and state and national youth activities. The club is sponsored by the State 4-H Club Staff of the Cooperative Extension Service.

MISS NANCY NUNN

MISS ELIZABETH POKRYWKA

Beauty, a word often overworked or undeservingly applied, but still so eloquent that it can name the very highest, truest, and best qualities that man and nature can achieve.

It can be as clear and tangible as a length of rich wine velvet, or as cryptic and distant as a brilliant star reigning in a February sky where afternoon's vibrant blue still struggles against an inevitable surrender to darkness.

Perhaps it is as forceful and grand as an ancient Gothic cathedral, or as tender and evasive as a shy child's smile.

Found in the lithe freedom of a boy running for sheer joy, and in the quiet, proud dignity of an old and very tired man, who yet challenges the premature and common deaths of senility and uselessness.

At times beauty will appear in a form so subtle that it goes unnoticed, then flourish so that its symbol is so strikingly complete and obvious that one could not help but see it.

A truly beautiful girl is a symbol of this kind. A girl who is really beautiful exemplifies the finest and most universal meanings that the word implies. She does not allow her apparent physical loveliness to be defiled by base, unworthy inner qualities.

She is dignified and kind in all she does, uniting external beauty with an inner goodness, and creates hope and a strength of character that surrounds her life and truth.

NEW QUEEN CROWNED

Entertainment and witty commentary punctuated the pageant.

Lovely . . . poised . . . gracious . . . our first runner-up.

And then the wonderful afterwards.

IN GALA PAGEANTRY

Lovely vivacious coeds . . . a cheering crowd . . . a panel of judges . . . pleasant entertainment . . . and winning smiles highlighted the first annual "Miss Monticola Pageant." Fifteen finalists, chosen from a field of fifty-two contestants by the John Robert Powers Modeling Agency, competed for the title of "Miss Monticola of 1964." In a thrilling pageant held in Reynolds Hall, three finalists were chosen on the basis of beauty, charm, and poise to reign over the 1964 MONTICOLA.

Homecoming, Mountaineer Weekend, Mothers' Day Sing, thuses. These are all part of the rich tradition that makes up West Virginia University. And where would these affairs be were it not for the active participation and enthusiasm of the Greeks? Fraternal organizations have helped to solve housing problems for many thousands of men and women over the years.

Interest, not only in campus, but in community service affairs, such as parties for underprivileged children, community cleanup campaigns, and donation of time, effort, and money to charity has shown that fraternities are now able, mature organizations, not to be included in the stereotype of those groups of twenty-years ago.

Scholastic achievement and character building are now primary aims of all fraternities, intent on conforming to the changing environment around them. Gone are the brutal paddle sessions and Hell Week degradations. Emphasis is now predominantly on learning—about their University, about their fraternity, about their associations with other people.

GREEKS AND ENTHUSIASM GO TOGETHER

Deep discussion on the merits of a Beatle haircut.

The Sigma Chis give the Grande Tour of their new house.

For many incoming students, the first look at West Virginia University came as a week full of smiling cheerfully and shaking hands, as sororities and fraternities polished their trophies and handed out movie passes to their "closet cases" in time for Rush Week. And rush it was for the fraternities, whose thunderous wave across to Men's Hall for the best rush dates marked the first day of that week held in dread anticipation by all concerned.

After what seems like a month of the time-honored "What's your major?" tired feet, and midnight cut sessions, comes the agonizing wait. On Fraternity Row, greedy minds conjure up 60 pledges on Pledge Sunday, with the hope that Belmar Avenue gets none. The boys on "The Hill," likewise, would like to see the "Frats" on North High standing alone on their steps all day. By afternoon, however, everyone is happy with their catch, and all walk smilingly back to their T.V. rooms to catch the afternoon flick or some long-deserved sleep.

Firing up the troops.

The Phi Sigs welcome another to the Ever-Growing Throng.

Panhellenic Council, the governing body of all sororities on campus, is composed of a junior and senior representative from each sorority. Each Thursday the group meets with its advisor, Mrs. Mary Jane Schuster, to discuss and act on problems and to exchange ideas concerning the sororities.

COUNCIL

This year with the help of an area Panhellenic advisor, the Council sponsored a Panhellenic workshop to give all sorority women a broader perspective of sorority life and to examine the values of the Greek system. "Oriental Gardens" was the theme of Woman's Pan, the big social event of the year. Panhellenic also works closely with Interfraternity Council in planning and sponsoring Greek Week.

High scholarship is encouraged and through the work of a scholarship committee, new programs have been carried out for both pledges and actives. Plans for deferred rush have been discussed thoroughly and preparations for next year have begun. Panhellenic Council sponsors Junior Panhellenic, which consists of two members from each pledge class. Junior Pan is in charge of pledge breakfasts, an all-pledge party, and the Faculty Children's Christmas Party.

Pan members carefully plan for fall rush.

Sororities extend cordial greetings to their friends.

"Are you sure this was beauty cream?"

"I got an 'A' in R.O.T.C.?"

A fine social calendar and unselfish service projects have enabled the West Virginia chapter of Alpha Delta Pi to attain its current prominence. Alpha Delta Pi is the oldest national sorority in the United States. Founded on this rich heritage, Alpha Upsilon chapter has continued to strive forward, participating in such projects as the Penny-a-Day Fund for crippled children and the Easter Seal campaign.

Annually, the Sisters join their chapter at West Virginia Wesleyan for the Founders' Day Tea. A Talent Show, refreshments, and gifts highlight the party for graduating seniors, and the Blue and White formals provide a gala end to another school year.

The chief officers of the sorority are: Sue Jones, President; Linda Moninger, Vice-president; Deeann Cabo, Recording Secretary; Jocele Lynch, Corresponding Secretary; Mary Lou Gresham, Treasurer.

The backbone of future womanhood.

"My, dearie, you're getting fat."

The secret of Alpha Phi success is advancement. Recently, the Beta Iota chapter initiated a cultural committee, whose function is to broaden the chapter's interest in the fine arts. Not only has this program been stimulating for the sisters, but it has already added much to the busy social year. An old fashioned "Hoedown," complete with fiddlers and gingham dresses made Halloween great fun. Of course, the annual Christmas party and Spring Formal complete the year.

But service also plays an important part in Alpha Phi activities. Nationally, the Cardiac Fund is supported by the sorority. Ardent work at the Vincent Palotti Hospital have made the local chapter well known for their service.

As for the chapter's interest and ability on campus, their first-place win in this year's Homecoming Float contest is proof enough of their hard work.

The Alpha Phi officers include: Kay Biddle; President; Shirley Tintle, First Vice-president; Terry D'Orazio, Second Vice-president; Dotty Still, Secretary; Daphne Killen, Treasurer; Linda Burns, Chaplain.

"We've got 'em surrounded! Slap a pin on them!"

Up, up, and AWAAAY!

When it came to West Virginia University in 1905, Iota Chapter of Alpha Xi Delta was the first national sorority on campus. Nationally, the sorority was founded at Lombard College in 1893. As a great emphasis is placed on scholarship, the "Fuzzies" are especially proud of the national scholarship trophy which they received last spring for having the highest scholastic average of all Alpha Xi chapters in the United States. Their chapter scrapbook also won first place in the province and second place in the nation.

At Christmas they decorate the entire house for their annual party and in the spring, social events include the Rose Banquet and Formal, a surprise party for the seniors, Founders' Day Program, and their Philanthropy Project, the proceeds of which go to the Suncrest School for Retarded Children.

The 1963-64 officers include: Pat Casto, President; Barbara Broadwater, Vice-president; Chris Langfitt, Recording Secretary; Loleta Melton, Corresponding Secretary; and Jean DeWick, Treasurer.

"Ooo! Here comes another Keg."

"She's getting her first bath in two years."

Chi Omega was founded in 1895, and Theta Chapter came to this campus in 1905. They started the Centennial Year celebration in fine style by placing first, for the second year in a row in the Mother's Day Sing with "Sometimes I Feel Like a Motherless Child." They also won third place in the Homecoming Float Competition using West Virginia's "Knights of the Golden Horseshoe" as their theme.

Chi Omega's social functions include a Fall and Spring Eleusinia for the alumnae, Christmas caroling, big sister-little sister dinners, and a spring formal held in April.

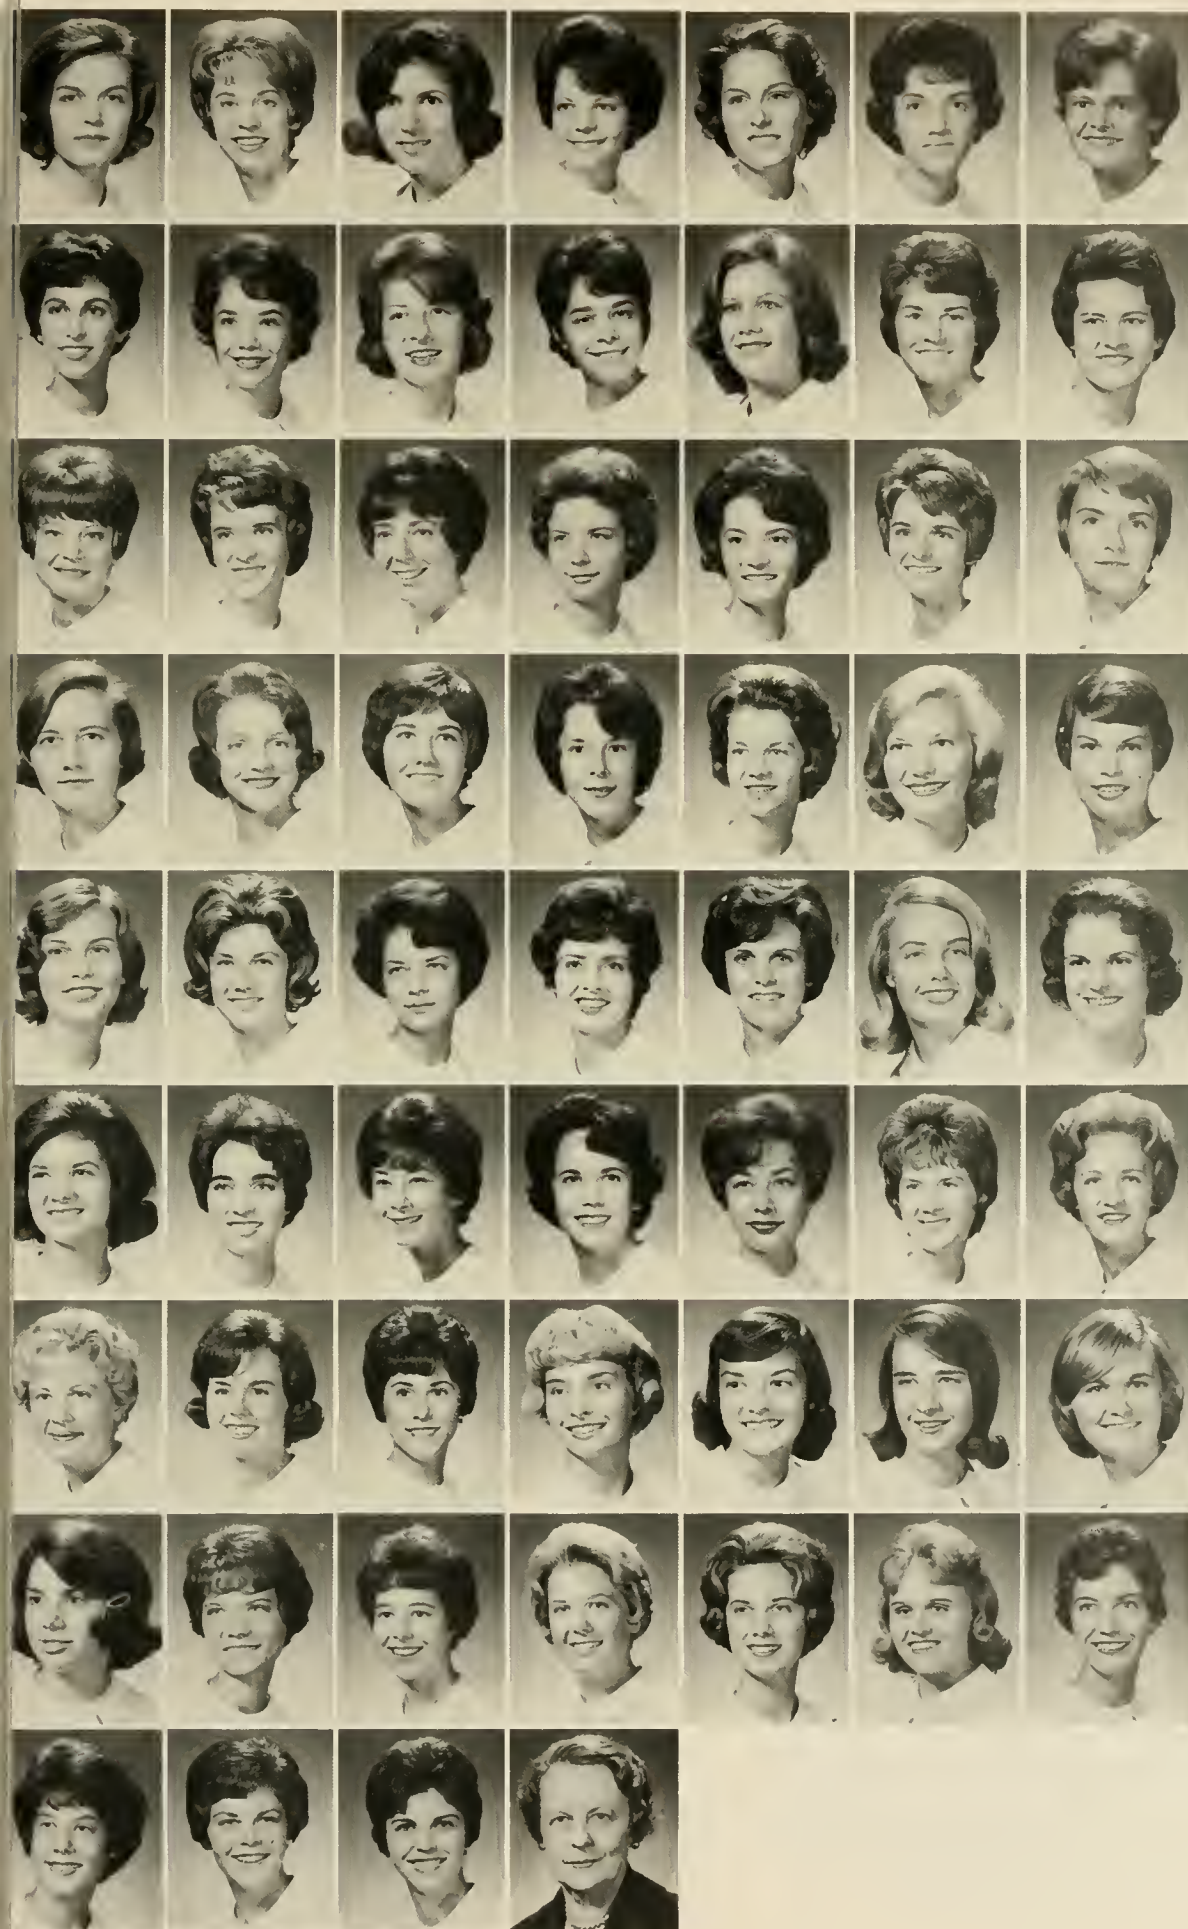

The 1963-64 officers of the sorority were: Nancy Myres, President; Margaret Mann, Vice-president; Karen Ridgway, Secretary; and Linda Feitler, Treasurer.

Delta Delta Delta, the only sorority on campus that has two houses, was brought to West Virginia University in 1955. Nationally, it was founded on Thanksgiving Eve, 1888, at Boston University, and this year is celebrating its 75th anniversary. Chapter activities include an Apple Polishing Party to which each member brings her favorite professor and presents him with an apple, other refreshments, and entertainment; the Christmas Shocking-Stocking Party; pledge-active dinners; and the Spring Formal in May.

This year the Tri Deltas, along with two campus fraternities, built the Monongalia County Centennial Queen's Float for the 1963 Centennial Homecoming. Outstanding activities and honors include: Vice President and Secretary of the Mountainlair Program Council, Coordinator of Spring Spree Weekend, Li-Toon-Awa, Spokes, Kappa Alpha Rose, and the Forestry Ball Queen.

Officers of the sorority include: Dixie Hawse, President; Barbara Downey, Vice-president; Lila Parsons, Recording Secretary; Jane Simonton, Treasurer; Sally Summers, Chaplain.

From the Deep South they came. Alpha Xi Chapter of Delta Gamma was founded at West Virginia in 1922. The spirit of the sisters still lives, and is based on the solidarity of the founding in 1873 at Lewis Institute, Oxford, Mississippi.

Delta Gamma recognizes the importance of international orientation of education, with various types of aid to foreign students in all lands. This awareness has been reflected in other sorority projects. Last year, the Sight Conservation and Aid effort directed funds and help to the blind in Hawaii.

Always among top contenders, the Delta Gammas continued tradition by capturing second place in the float contest with their entry of "where the Rhododendron Grow."

Of course scholarship is reflected in the fine averages compiled by the D.G.'s. The sorority ranked first for the second semester of the 1963 school term.

Their active social calendar includes a Christmas party, a Gold-digger's Party on Golddigger's Weekend, and the Spring Formal in April.

The principle officers of the sorority are: Sue Tuckwiller, President; Connie Waddell, First Vice-president; Anne Wollerton, Second Vice-president; Eleanor Watson and Betty Ann Price, Co-Rush Chairmen; Susie Patteson, Corresponding Secretary; and Sharon Rule, Treasurer.

Gamma Phi Beta was founded in 1874 at Syracuse University; the Alpha Phi chapter was organized in 1938 and reactivated in 1959. Nationally, the sorority owns and operates two summer camps for underprivileged children. Alpha Phi chapter has two local philanthropy projects: working with the deaf and blind school in Romney and paying visits to the Sundale Rest Home.

The big event of the year was moving into their newly-built house on Spruce Street. An informal Christmas party, a Founders' Day program, monthly chapter dinners, and a Mother's Day buffet comprise a varied social calendar, climaxed by the Pink Carnation Ball in May.

Officers of the sorority include: Patty Sullivan, President; Betty Pokrywka, Second Vice-president; Dorothy Willard, First Vice-president; Ann Brubeck, Recording Secretary; Ann Killingsworth, Corresponding Secretary; Penny Erskine, Treasurer.

Kappa Delta was founded at Longwood College, Farmville, Virginia, and was established at West Virginia University in 1951. Nationally, Kappa Delta sponsors an award at the Crippled Children's Hospital in Richmond, Virginia. The local chapter makes Christmas toys for children in the University hospital.

The KD's social calendar includes a Christmas party, a scholarship dinner, an Initiation Banquet, and a senior banquet. The highlight of their social affairs is the Mr. Esquire Spring Formal. Mr. Esquire is selected from pinmates and fiances and is presented with a top hat, white gloves, and a year's subscription to Esquire Magazine.

Officers of the sorority include: Nancy Pritt, President; Carolyn Clohan, Vice-president; Pam Wolfe, Secretary; Sharyn Worrell, Treasurer.

As builders of character, of friendship, of high standards, and lasting values, the Beta Upsilon Chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma stands very high. Trying to extend these values to others, the Kappas support extensive Philanthropic and Rehabilitation programs and provide scholarships to undergraduate and graduate members and non-members alike.

Yet these girls found time to win second place in the 1963 Mother's Day Sing; besides this, their social events include a Homecoming buffet, Founders' Day dessert, Christmas party, a Mother's Day breakfast, and a Spring Formal. The chapter also entertains numerous cultural programs throughout the year.

Officers for this year include: Ann Powell, President; Nancy Van-Gilst, First Vice-president; Bibby Moore, Second Vice-president; Sally McCue, Secretary; Betting Altizer, Treasurer.

Even though that brightly-lighted arrow has been found resting on the walls of several fraternities on campus, its real home is on the Pi Beta Phi house on University Avenue. The arrow has been a national emblem since the founding in 1867, and it has been displayed at West Virginia University since 1918.

All Pi Phi's point with pride to their nationally-sponsored settlement school in Gatlinburg, Tennessee. This school is the Pi Phi's national philanthropic project.

An active social sorority, the Pi Phi's engage in such affairs as a Christmas party, a Big Sister-Little Sister Party, Cookie Shines, a chapter Loyalty Day, and a Founders' Day program. The Spring Formal is a March event and is the high point of the social season.

Sorority officers include: Carol Flenniken, President; Harriet Brawley Fowler, Vice-president; Vicki Orlor, Recording Secretary; Linda Brown, Corresponding Secretary; Sarah Sydnor, Treasurer.

legislation that the fraternities feel is necessary is passed through Interfraternity Council. The men meet bi-monthly in the College of Law with their advisor, Mr. Gordon Thorn. This year the men have been concerned particularly with adopting a workable plan for deferred rush.

Greek Week and Greek Leadership Conference are major projects of the group. At Men's Pan, which concludes Greek Week, the Men's Pan Queen is named. She is chosen from candidates nominated by all eighteen fraternities. Other important projects are contributing to the Student Loan Fund and sponsoring service projects. The goal of the Interfraternity Council is to encourage both high scholarship and gentlemanly conduct among Greek men.

Nationally, Alpha Gamma Rho was founded at Indianapolis, Indiana in 1908. Alpha Alpha Chapter was established on this campus sixteen years later. The AGR's, as they are commonly known, come primarily from the fields of agriculture and forestry and are proud of the scholastic achievements they have attained in the past several years. Their many social activities include pledge parties, a Christmas dance, and the annual Pink Rose Formal which is held in April.

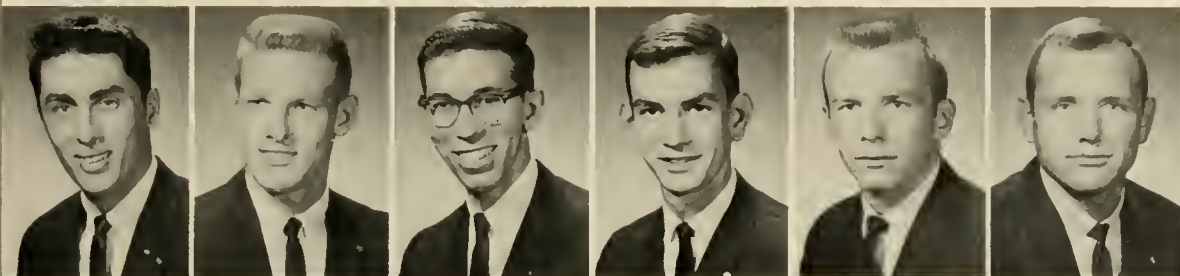

Officers of the fraternity are: Steve Conrad, President; Roy Zinn, First Vice-president; Larry Hammett, Second Vice-president; Lanty McNeel, Secretary; William Ridings, Treasurer.

Alpha Phi Delta was formed on the campus of Syracuse University in 1914. The fraternity grew rapidly, spreading chapters throughout the East and Midwest. In 1923 Pi chapter of Alpha Phi Delta was formed at West Virginia.

High scholastic achievements are the primary aims of the brothers of APD; emphasis is also placed upon social activities. The biggest APD event of the year is the Carnation Ball which is held every April. During the school year, various parties, which include the Christmas party and a costume party, fill out the schedule.

The interest of the Brothers in intramural sports is more than evident because of their competitiveness and whole-hearted enthusiasm; although they pride themselves especially upon their fine soccer team.

Officers are: John Tiano, President; James Slautich, Vice-president; Sam Oliverio, Secretary; Ray Martinello, Treasurer.

Founded on August 8, 1839 at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, and established on this campus August 31, 1900, Beta Theta Pi is the oldest national fraternity represented at West Virginia University.

Beta Theta Pi has consistently provided the campus with outstanding student leaders. This year, the Student Body President and President of the Interfraternity Council are among Beta's members. It also boasts many members of the various campus student organizations.

Athletically, Beta is always a top contender for the all-year interfraternity sports cup. Social events are held throughout the year. They include desserts, pledge parties, combo parties, banquets, and formals. The Miami Triad in May ends the social calendar.

The Betas annually contribute to several philanthropic funds as well as provide the University with many services.

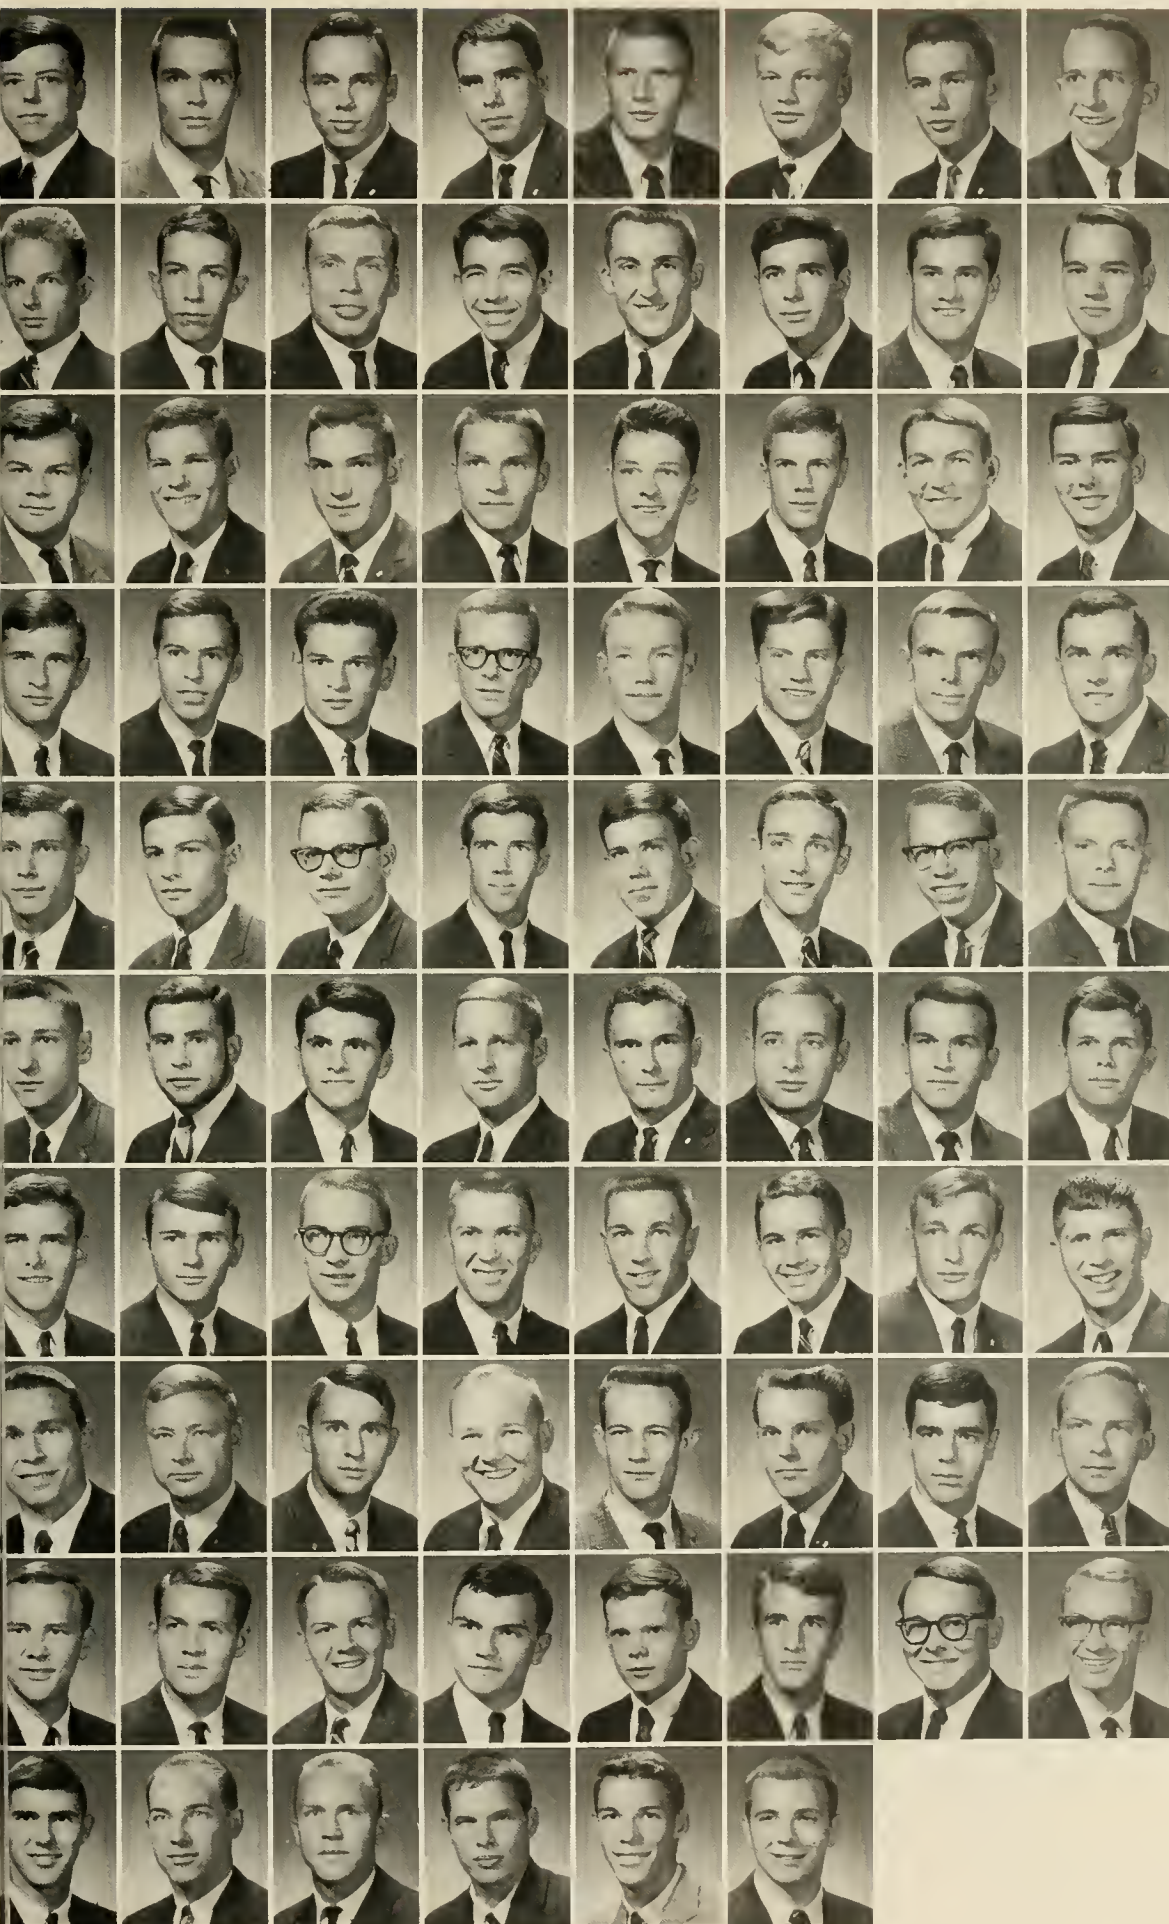

Officers of the fraternity are: Otto K. Reuter, Jr., President; Morris E. Mowery, Jr., Vice-president; James T. Cooper, Recording Secretary; Jeffery A. Grimm, Corresponding Secretary; C. Robert Harman, Treasurer.

Gamma Delta of Delta Tau Delta was reorganized at West Virginia University in 1900, forty-two years after the national founding at Bethany College.

"Sing, Sing, Sing a Rousing Song," the Delts march forward to victory in singing, intramurals, and scholarship. Once again Gamma Delta won the well-known clock at the regional Delt song-fest at Pittsburgh. The Delts were in top contention for intramural honors, and the Brothers were campus leaders in scholarship.

Campus activities and a complete social schedule keep the local chapters always active. Some of the annual Delt social events include the "Sewer Party," "Shipwreck Party," "Western Party," and the Christmas and Spring Formals.

Chapter officers are: George Mangus, President; John Sutton, Vice-president; Tom Hildebrand, Recording Secretary; Bill Brown, Corresponding Secretary; Bruce Leech, Treasurer.

KAPPA ALPHA

Kappa Alpha was founded at Washington and Lee University in 1865 and Alpha Rho chapter brought the Confederate flag to West Virginia University in 1897. The KA's won the third-place trophy in the 1962 Mother's Day Sing with their presentation of "Eddy Stone Light." They also took second-place honors in the Mountaineer Weekend house decorations competition, using "Stone-wall Jackson Helps the Mounties" as the theme.

Several annual parties are held by the KA's, including the "Suppressed Desires," "Roaring Twenties," "French Apache," "Barn, and Pagan" parties. The Black and White Formal is a January event. Old South Weekend in the spring is the highlight of all affairs. The KA's "secede from the union" for their three days of picnics, parties, and the Old South Ball.

The Kappa Alpha leaders are: Bill Anderson, President; John Fisher, Vice-president; Dave Roberts, Secretary; Steve Seaman, Treasurer.

Kappa Sigma was organized in 1400 at the University of Bologna in Italy. Gamma Phi chapter was chartered at West Virginia University in May, 1918, after the Kappa Sigma national founding at the University of Virginia in 1869. The "Can-Can" dancers descended from their "castle on the hill" to win the first-place trophy in the men's division of the 1962 Sphinx Talent Show. The Suppressed Desire, Bar and Grill, Christmas, Halloween, and Prehistoric parties give the 60 brothers good opportunities for dancing and bridge-playing with their favorite dates. In April, informal "partying" is overcome by the Star and Crescent Formal, a happy ending for the social season.

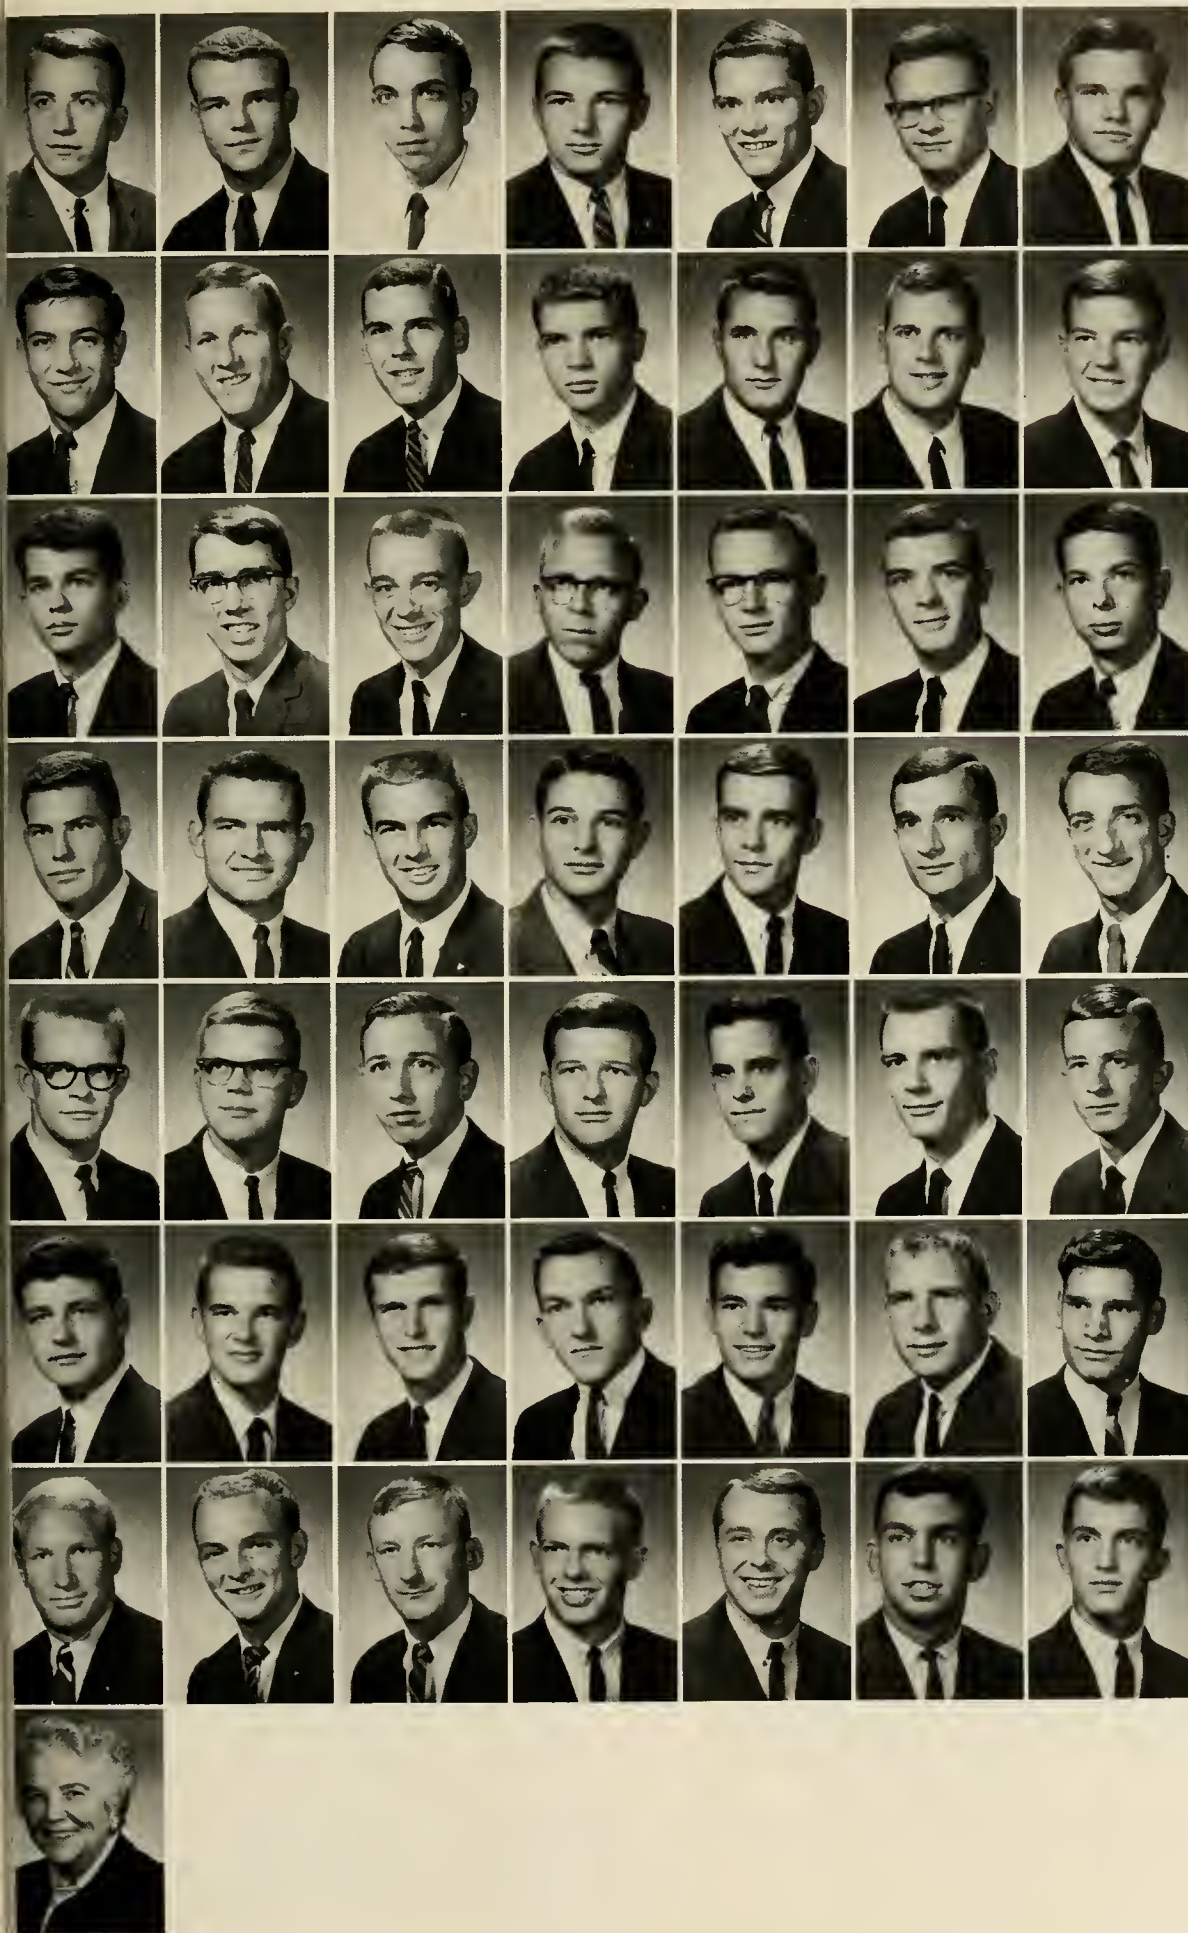

Officers are: Mike Albert, President; Jim Caveny, Vice-president; Robert Pack, Secretary; Robert Taylor, Treasurer.

Iota Lambda of Lambda Chi Alpha is the youngest fraternity on campus, being chartered in 1953. The colors of Lambda Chi Alpha are purple, green and gold and the fraternity flower is the white rose. Social activities for this year include a number of theme parties such as: "Happy Halloween Party," "Mountaineer Party," "Paradise Lost," and "Playboy Formal Party."

The social season is climaxed by the annual Crescent Formal at which the Crescent Queen is selected and entered into International competition. The "Lambda Chi's" pride themselves in the many community services they perform for the West Virginia University Community and plan for even more this year.

Officers are: Lou Vari, President; Larry Housley, Vice-president; Jack Chetock, Secretary; Fred Giersch, Treasurer.

As in years past, they, along with two other fraternities, held the Miami Triad Weekend. The "Shorty Hicks Award" is presented each year to the outstanding varsity basketball player of Phi Delta Theta. West Virginia Alpha of Phi Delta Theta was established in 1927. PHI SIGMA DELTA

The men of Phi Sigma Delta pride themselves on their hospitality with the motto, "A warm welcome to every visitor." Upsilon Chapter, which was founded at West Virginia University in 1927, believes in participation in all campus activities. Homecoming Weekend, 1963 saw the brothers share first place honors in the float competition. The "P.S.D.'s" are always near the top in intramural athletics, and their parties are second to none. A unique Thanksgiving Affair and the annual May Affair Spring Formal head a social calendar filled with events such as a "Funeral Party" and a "Mexican Fiesta." More important than all campus and social activities, the men of Phi Sigma Delta feel studies should be stressed. This is indicated by the various pledge-big brother tutoring sessions and seminars which can always be found at the house.

The chapter officers are: Phillip E. Rosenthal, President; Frederick G. Barkus, Vice-president; Edward A. Lebowitz, Secretary; Stuart M. Robbins, Treasurer; Martin Glasser, Scholarship Chairman; and Michael Parker, Social Chairman.

Phi Sigma Kappa was founded March 15, 1873, at the University of Massachusetts. Delta chapter was organized in March, 1891, at West Virginia University, and is now the largest fraternity on campus with well over a hundred members.

Being athletically-inclined, the Phi Sigs swept away all challengers last year in intramural competition by taking the All-Year Cup, making this the fourth year out of the past six that they have won the coveted award.

On campus, the Phi Sigs also dominate the scene. Ron Wilkinson is President of the Senior Class; Odi Casali is Student Body treasurer; Bill Fleming was an outstanding player on the varsity football team; Bill Ryczaj, one of W.V.U.'s sophomore basketball players is predicted to be our next All-American; Tim Stinson is Greek editor, and John Goodlett is Administration editor for the MONTICOLA; and they have fourteen members of Fi Batar Cappar.

Social events include the Viking Party, the Hellzapoppin' Party, the well-known "Roaring Twenties Party," and many combo parties. Their Moonlight Formal is in May.

Fraternity officers are: Ron Wilkinson, President; Lynn Lemasters, Vice-president; Gordon Wright, Secretary; and Harold O. Casali, Treasurer.

Pi Kappa Alpha, founded at the University of Virginia in 1868, has become the national fraternity with firetrucks. Alpha Theta Chapter, chartered at West Virginia University in 1904, is the proud owner of a 1930 American La-France pump and ladder truck. During Greater West Virginia Weekend 1963, the truck was christened "Sadie" in honor of the Pike housemother Mrs. Sadie Henderson. Each year the Pikes have the traditional Showboat party, Pledge Hop, Senior Blast, and several combo parties. The highlight of the social calendar is Dream Girl Weekend in the spring.

Officers of Pi Kappa Alpha are: William A. Jones, President; Richard Little, Vice-president; Robert Welling, Secretary; and Keith Kennedy, Treasurer.

The Centennial Year of 1963 was a great one for the Mu Mu Sigs. The new house on top of Fraternity Row started its social life with Dedication Weekend. From there we moved on to the annual Miami Triad with Beta Theta Pi and Phi Delta Theta. The new year saw us at the "Sadie Hawkins," "Gangster," and "Loser" parties. The highlight of the social season was the famous Sweetheart party. Earlier this year we collaborated with Delta Gamma and Tau Kappa Epsilon for the second place Homecoming float. This summer our Charleston alumni received a national award for its work on the new house.

Under the leadership of Richard E. Talbott, President; Jarrett H. Crowley, Vice-president; Charles O. Casto, Secretary; Warren M. Copeland, Pledge Trainer; and Sigfried, our mascot, Sigma Chi will continue to move forward on the W.V.U. campus.

From its founding on April 10, 1856, Theta Chi has spread throughout the land with 135 active chapters and more than 56,000 living members.

Alpha Kappa Chapter of Theta Chi Fraternity was introduced to the campus of West Virginia University in 1921. The last few years have seen events such as, open houses on football weekends, "The Great Pumpkin Cometh Party" at Halloween, Christmas parties, as well as the memorable Dream Girl Formal in the spring of each year.

The men of Theta Chi take great pride in their newly redecorated house not only as a place for social events, but also as a place to uphold the fraternity standard "Alma Mater first—Theta Chi for Alma Mater."

LOWELL CONNOR

In the West Virginia Football Brochure for 1963 this item was printed: "Years ago in Pittsburgh, a West Virginian, while sitting in the dining room of the William Penn Hotel after a memorable Mountaineer victory over Pitt, suddenly caught a glimpse of his heroes in the lobby. Overflowing, with emotion at least, he rose to his feet, took a deep breath, and then roared, 'West-by-God-Virginia!' a description so apropos that it will live as long as the state." These words well depict the athletic scene and spirit at West Virginia University. The University has 12 varsity sports in which men can compete on an inter-collegiate basis. On the campus level, sports of all description, from horse-shoe pitching to softball, are available through the intramural program under the direction of Samuel Maurice. There is also athletic competition available for the university coed. Vast indoor facilities at Elizabeth Moore Hall are used by over half of the girls on the campus.

Competition through sports, regardless of the level, gives the college student an opportunity to improve his physical body, to strengthen his mind, and to learn fair play.

Even if the sports-inclined person at West Virginia University is no more than a cheering spectator, he has the ideal chance to grow in sportsmanship by supporting his team and by being a gracious host to the visiting opponent.

CENTENNIAL OPENER 'SUNK' BY NAVY 51-7

Tom Yeater scoots off tackle against Navy.

SIZE AGAINST SPEED—SPEED WINS: The largest crowd in history trekked out of the hills and into Morgantown on September 21, 1963 to cheer West Virginia University on to victory as they opened the Centennial Schedule. It was Navy's speed against West Virginia's size when the rivals from across the Alleghenies collided. Navy's speed literally buried the Gold and Blue at sea with "Jolly Roger" Staubach leading the attack. When the long afternoon was over, most of the more than 35,000 fans who had jammed Mountaineer Stadium left disillusioned, downhearted, and disgusted. But for the midshipmen and their followers, it was a sun-shining, rosy-red afternoon. The Mountaineers had been all but pushed out of the stadium and into the likewise slow-moving Monongahelia River. Final score: the Navy Midshipmen—51, West Virginia Mountaineers—7. The Gold and Blue didn't manage to get to pay dirt that long afternoon until the clock showed just 23 seconds remaining to play. It was Navy's fourth string that finally yielded a touchdown to W.V.U. It came on a pass from Jerry Yost to Fred Hauff. Although Staubach seemed to completely steal the show from Yost, the Jolly Roger could account for only one TD pass, the same as Yost.

The defeat was the worst opening day defeat the Mountaineers have suffered since 1894, when Washington and Jefferson took their measure 58-0. It was Navy's biggest score since it trounced George Washington 52-0 in 1957, and it topped by four points the win over W.V.U. in 1947. The "Charleston Gazette's" A. L. (Shorty) Hardman described it all this way: "Roger Staubach, in the most dazzling passing performance old Mountaineer Field has ever seen, showed every inch of his All-American potential here. . . ." The old veteran of the press box, Bill Evans from the "Fairmont Times" had this to say in the next day's paper: "The United States Navy in war may rely on its Polaris-firing submarines and its massive carrier task force, but in football it has a combination of both in a junior midshipman named Roger Staubach."

With the worst defeat of the season under their belts, the Mountaineers had better days and greener pastures to look forward to in the future. They found them four times during the rest of the season, the first one coming the next week at Boston, Massachusetts.

"I got him by the leg, and he's not getting away."

GOLD AND BLUE BOUNCE FROM 34-0 WIN TO 35-0 LOSS: The next three weeks saw W.V.U. even the record at 2-2. In the second week of the season West Virginia went to Boston and "slapped" the Terriers right in the face as a farewell present, 34-0. The series between the two schools ended with the biggest margin of victory ever attained by either college. The rivalry ended because Boston is putting a de-emphasis on football. The Mountaineers used every scoring device in the book to defeat the Terriers, including a 47-yard field goal by Chuck Kinder.

The next week the Gold and Blue returned home for a "duck shoot," only to have the ducks stomp out W.V.U.'s winning flame. Jerry Yost never could seem to get his offense going in the first half. As a result, Ed Pastilong saw his longest piece of action in his varsity career by playing most of the second half. At intermission W.V.U. trailed 35-0. In the second half the defense buckled down and kept Oregon scoreless. The defeat was more costly than the 35-0 score indicated. John Burnison was lost for the remainder of the year with a fractured foot.

The next week W.V.U. continued winning ways on the road by stopping the William and Mary Indians 20-16, before 11,000 homecoming fans in Williamsburg, Virginia.

PITT, HOMECOMING, TV-ONLY VICTORY

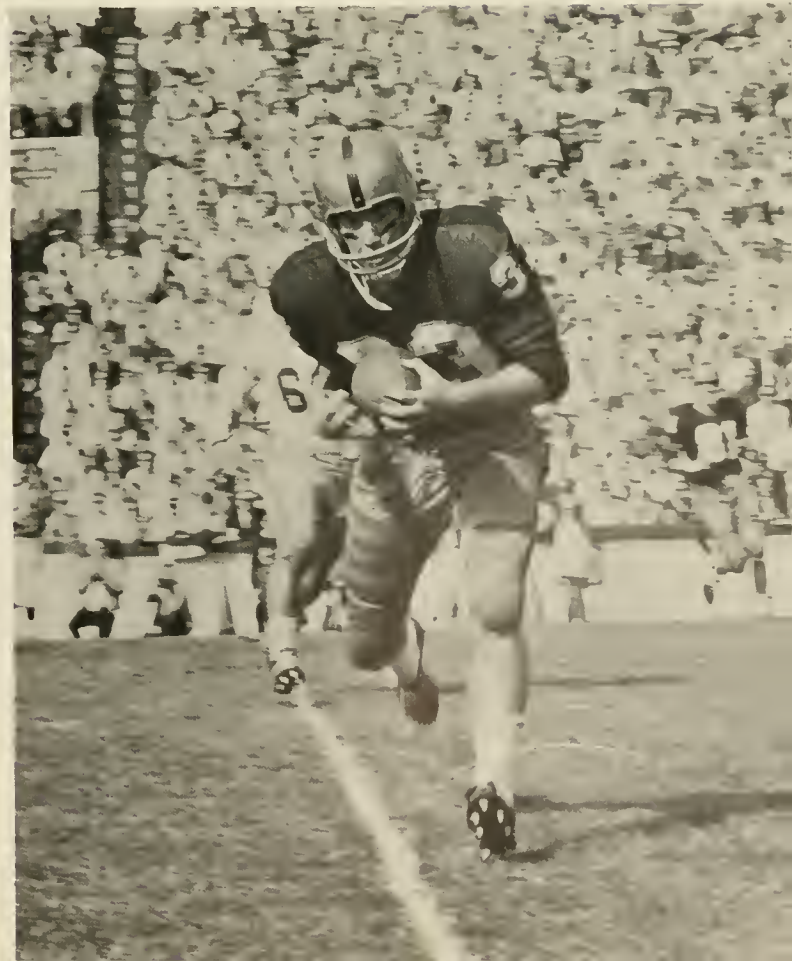

WAS NEEDED

NATIONAL T.V. AUDIENCE SEES PITT EDGE W.V.U.
13-10: It was Homecoming on the Morgantown campus, and despite W.V.U.'s "break even" record, the stadium was near full. Many more all over eastern United States also witnessed the rivalry, one of the oldest in the history of college football. The N.C.A.A., in cooperation with CBS, televised it as the game-of-the-week. Pitt was undefeated and favored to win, which they did, but only after knowing it had been up against a determined bunch of mountain folk. Midway in the fourth quarter W.V.U. held a 10-7 lead over the Panthers. All the homecoming fans could see was a major upset in the making. Students were ready to buy the "celebrating-kegs" to touch off the day! Then from seemingly nowhere, a big hole opened in the Pitt line. Through it raced the one man the Gold and Blue feared the most—Paul Martha. He was on his way to pay dirt at the open end of the stadium, and not one Mountaineer was going, or could, stop him. The run was 46 yards . . . long enough to take the hearts right out of the Mountaineers and their following. W.V.U. Coach Gene Corum had only this to say, "We deserved better fate." The Mountaineers had pushed the Panthers all over the field, but pushing the ball across the goal seemed a different matter. Until Martha let loose with his winning run, Pitt's offense seemed to be almost stagnant.

The gridiron action seemed to throw a cover over the new look at Stadium Field. The fresh white paint glistened beside the bright Blue and Gold borders. But the really new addition was the press box, the pride of sports publicity director Edgar Barrett. The $140,000 building stood tall above the turf, providing sportscasters and T.V. cameras with truly birdseye views of the field. The progressive steps in the construction can be seen above.

Best you move. This mail must go through.

PENN STATE PROVES TOO STRONG

Woody blocks for charging Steve Berzansky.

LIONS TRIUMPH 20-9; COLONIALS DOWNED 20-16:

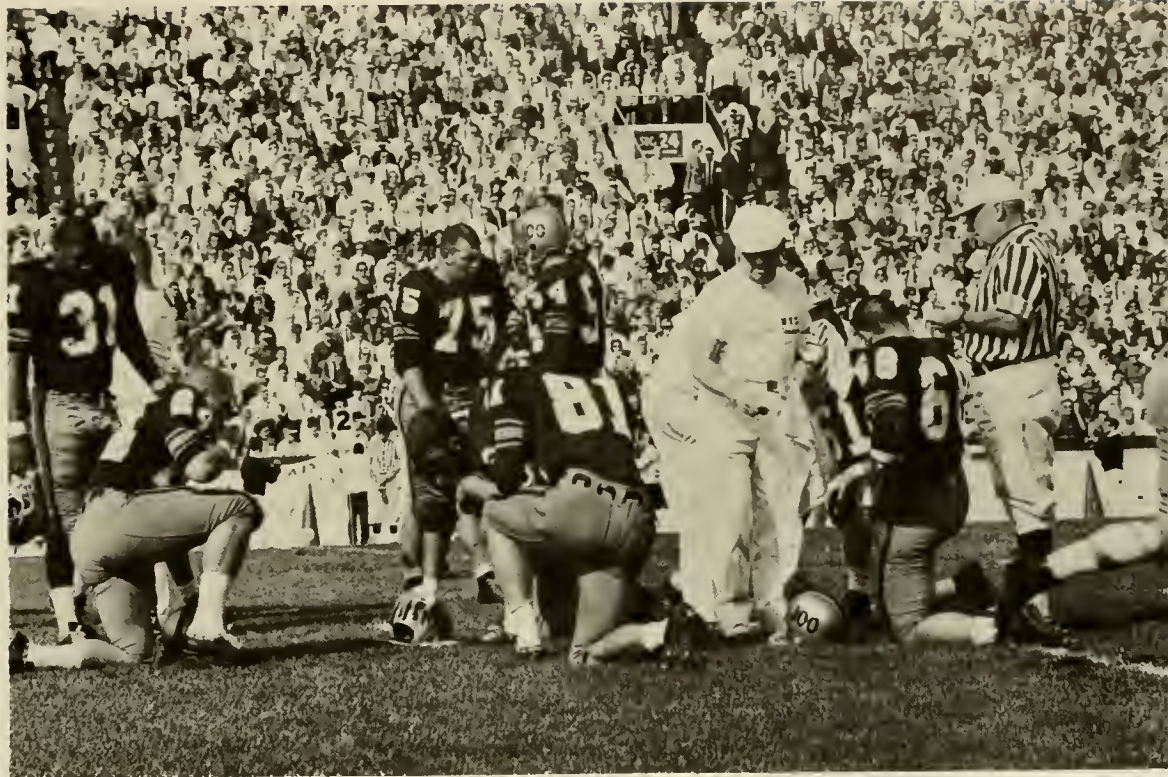

W.V.U. came up with the typical "let-down-after-the-big-one" right after Pitt. It was simply a case of not enough offense. Penn State held a slim 13-9 edge in the last quarter. Then they put the game away to stay with a final touchdown and extra point. The West Virginia club had a long afternoon of mis-cues and repeated Lion interceptions. W.V.U.'s record now stood at 2-4, and next Saturday the team was "off to see the President."

Arriving in the Nation's capital, the Mountaineers came with two surprise weapons in the personalities of Homer Criddle and Dick Leftridge. Fine running by each and some costly Colonial fumbles gave W.V.U. its third win of the season, and second in the Southern Conference play. Fans in the Washington area witnessed the Gold and Blue put up a strong goal line stand when the Colonials were threatening with the would-be winning score. Criddle ran 44 yards for one touchdown. Leftridge, ran away from the pack for two touchdowns, carrying the ball 14 times for 79 yards.

SYRACUSE WINS BY KICK; V.P.I. ROMPS 28-3; SOPHS SHINE: The Orangemen from New York state returned a punt 66 yards, and then put victory just out of range for the Mountaineers with a 32-yard field goal. In the last quarter Syracuse led 15-7. W.V.U. then scored after a 1-yard drive but failed to tie the score by missing a two-point conversion. Final Score—Syracuse—15, W.V.U.—13. The game started in exciting fashion when Syracuse, deep in its own territory, failed to make a first down on an early gamble. West Virginia took over and quickly scored.

The next week W.V.U. returned home seeking its first win on the home sod. However, V.P.I. had the Southern Conference crown in mind, and wasn't going to let the Mountaineers get in the way. W.V.U. completely lost their scoring touch, while V.P.I. seemed to push the ball into pay dirt on every series. It resulted in a wild romp, with V.P.I. winning 28-3. A junior quarterback who was breaking every record in Tech's books, Bobby Schweickert, passed for 13 of 16 and one touchdown pass. The Gold and Blue's lone score came on a 26-yard field goal by Chuck Kinder.

The final game of the season was to be band day at Mountaineer Stadium, with over 1,000 high school musicians as guests. That day never came. The game was postponed, Somebody give us a hand.

and was later scheduled to be played on Thanksgiving Day. A sparse crowd of 1,500 saw the Mountaineers close out the Centennial Schedule, quite a lapse from the opener with Navy. Coach Corum went with most of his sophomores against the Furman squad. They had the best afternoon all year. Led by Eddie Pastilong, the Mountaineers ran up a 38-0 half time score. The second half went scoreless for the Mountaineers, but they gave up only seven points and the final score for the last game was 38-7. It was then only 43 weeks to opening game in 1964 and the sophomores had given Corum a ray of hope. Shortly after the close of the season backfield coach Jimmy Walthall resigned. Then several days later defense coach Ray Watson also resigned. Walthall was replaced by former Penn State quarterback, Galen Hall. The 100th year schedule was over, and the 4-6 record seemed to rashly disprove the higher expectations.

BASKETBALL

West Virginia University's 1963-64 basketball season could best be described with the adjective "inconsistent." The Mountaineers finished the year with an 18-10 record. It was only the second time in the last 10 years that the team did not finish with at least 20 wins under its belt. The Mountaineers had a team of over-all balance, but lacked a leader to take charge when the going got rough. In the Southern Conference, West Virginia finished second behind Davidson. The team was eliminated from the Southern Conference Tournament in the second round by George Washington, a club that was defeated by the Mountaineers twice earlier in the season. Top-seeded Davidson was also knocked off in the same round of the tournament by V.M.I. The Keydets went on to win the tournament and represent the Southern Conference in the N.C.A.A. Tournament.

The Mountaineers started the season on the road against two Conference foes. They defeated Furman 67-65 and The Citadel 58-53. Then the team returned home to host the Centennial Classic. In the opening round, Duke topped Ohio State and the Gold and Blue downed St. John's 79-72. In the championship game, West Virginia lost to Duke 86-81 after leading almost all the way. The University then lost two more in a row to V.M.I. and Maryland. They rebounded to stop William and Mary 78-73.

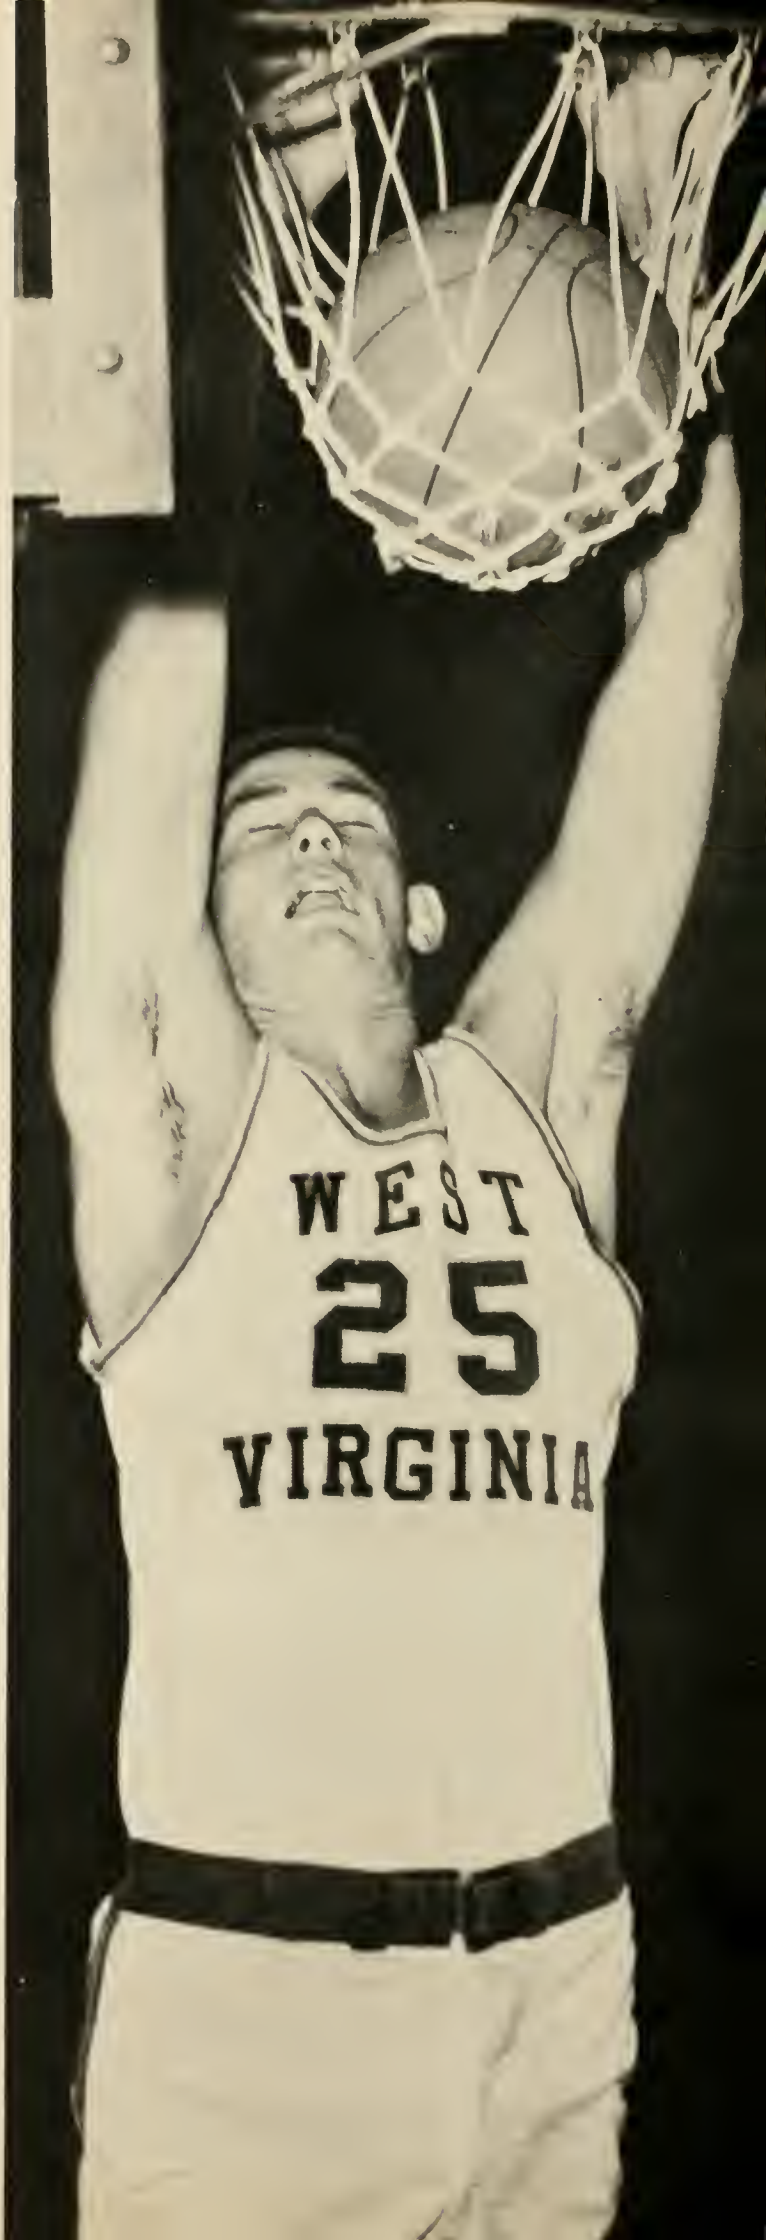

The season had now progressed to Christmas time. This meant a westward trip to California for the Los Angeles Classic. For the showing they made, the Mountaineers might as well have stayed at home, for they finished a disappointing seventh. West Virginia was only able to defeat Yale in the third game. They lost to Illinois and Southern California.

Before the team returned from Christmas recess, it split two more games on the road. The University defeated Furman and lost to Davidson. The Mountaineers then went on a three-game winning streak in Morgantown. They squeaked by V.M.I. 75-73; trounced George Washington 93-74, and then whipped Penn State 84-63.

West Virginia had seemed to snap out of the momentary lapse before they embarked for the Steel City to get even with the Panthers for damage done in football season. The Pitt game was played on Saturday afternoon before a regional televised audience. The Gold and Blue, apparently camera-shy, were practically clawed to defeat by the Panther Quintet. When it was all over, the wounded Gold and Blue from West Virginia came home defeated, 96-72.

West Virginia recovered during semester break, and then went to the Charleston Civic Center. A last-second desperation heave from mid-court by Marty Lentz and a goal-tending call on All-American Fred Hetzel gave the Mountaineers an upset victory over third-ranked Davidson, 75-73. It was the first loss of the year for the Wildcats and the biggest win of the year for West Virginia. The Gold and Blue kept the ball rolling through the remaining eight regularly scheduled games by winning all but one. The Mountaineers defeated Virginia Tech, 83-71; Maryland, 91-67; George Washington, 82-75; Pitt, 86-84; Richmond, 74-66; Syracuse 104-85; Virginia Tech again 79-77. West Virginia lost only to Penn State on State's floor, 86-76. In the first round of the Southern Conference, the Mountaineers stopped William and Mary, 85-73 but were defeated in the second round by George Washington 88-80.

With the Mountaineers' elimination from the Southern Conference the "frustrating" 1963-64 season came to an end. The Gold and Blue will lose only two starters from the 1964 team. The two are All-Southern Conference center Tom Lowry and backcourt ace Don Weir. King hopes that Bob Benfield will be able to step into the shoes left vacant by Lowry. West Virginia will not be hurting in the backcourt with the absence of Weir. Remaining are Ricky Ray, Buddy Quertinmont and John Cavacini. King says the keyword for the 1964-65 season is "consistency."

The 1963 baseball team established the best record of any athletic team in University history, winning 30 of 33 contests. Joe Jeran paced the pitching staff with a 1.15 earned run average in guiding the team to its third consecutive Southern Conference championship. Five members of the squad that advanced to the N.C.A.A. Regionals were placed on the All-Southern Conference team while Bill Marovic was ranked third in N.C.A.A. statistics in stolen bases with 27. Jeran and caught Jim Procopio later signed professional contracts. The 1964 edition of the Mountaineers is expected to produce another outstanding nine with the return of Marovic; John Radosevich, a lefty who holds the school strike out record; Dale Ramsburg, and some outstanding sophomores. Coach Steve Harrick was optimistic about another successful team for 1964.

CROSS COUNTRY

Captain Roger Meador led the University cross country team to an 8-1 record in dual meet competition. Meador set a record of 20 minutes, 32 seconds over the W.V.U. 4.1-mile course in leading the team to second place in the Southern Conference. Meador, Don Sweeney and Joe Kubic were named to the All-Southern Conference team. Meador, who led the team in scoring for three years, was named also for the third time to the All-Southern Conference team. Ranked 20th by the N.C.A.A., the Mountaineer harriers beat Navy, Georgetown, Kent State, V.M.I., V.P.I., and Pitt. At Pittsburgh, W.V.U. set an all-time record, breaking a 1960 mark set by N.C.A.A. champ Penn State. The only loss for the Stan Romanoski-coached team was to sixth-ranked Ohio University.

RIFLE TEAM

A 1964 Rifle Team, without the services of a returning letterman from the undefeated 1963 team, posted another outstanding record under first-year coach M/Sgt. Charles Haley. The riflers, led by sophomore captain John Writer, continued their winning ways and extended their streak to over 30 consecutive wins. The sharpshooters posted a big win over Army, and won the Allegheny Intercollegiate League and placed first in the N.R.A. Sectional. The 1964 team broke the previous University record for team score and Writer shot a 298 (300 possible) for the second highest mark posted by a Mountaineer in history. Writer is expected to reap some post-season honors and probably will break the season individual record of 293.3 held by 1961 All-American Bruce Meredith. The team should place among the best in the nation when final tabulations are made.

Kneeling: Jim Goodwin, Ralph Baker, John Writer, Phil Bahrman, Ron Schwenninger and Gary Cunningham. Standing: M/Sgt. Charles Haley, Jim Exline, Charles Pyles, Bob Nordeck, Bill Gifford, Bob Davis, Leonard Graham, Steve Miller, Ralph Given and Dave Rush.

WRESTLING

The Mountaineer grapplers posted another outstanding record for Coach Steve Harrick, in his 26th year of tutoring University wrestling and baseball teams. It was only the second year (the first was 1963) that the W.V.U. wrestlers won 10 matches, and also the sixth consecutive season in which the team has lost three or less meetings. Virginia Tech, Citadel and the University are expected to battle it out for the Southern Conference title. The Mountaineers were last season's runners-up to the Gobblers. Outstanding performers included captain Roy Sisler, Jim Jioio, Jerry Gooden, and sophomore Don Check.

GYMNASTICS

The University gymnasts, under former Olympian Bill Bonsall, posted their third consecutive winning season in a sport that was inaugurated by Bonsall here 12 years ago. The Mountaineers lost their opener to powerhouse Penn State but won two of three on a trip to the South. Junior Jerry Spencer led the team in scoring for the second year and placed high in Eastern and Southern Championship competition. Other standouts included team captain Bill Martin and Jim Roberts and Carl Townsend.

Kneeling: Larry Green, Carl Townsend, Adam Gradek and Jerry Spencer. Standing: Coach Bill Bonsall, Wayne Ferenzak, Rodger Henneke, Bill Martin, Gary Dingess, Jim Roberts and Manager Allan Wright.

GOLF

Beating Pitt twice helped the W.V.U. golf team gain a 6-4 record in 1963. The team, fourth in the conference, also defeated West Liberty, George Washington and Fairmont. Losses were to V.M.I., V.P.I., Ohio University and Penn State. Jim Hess set a school record by slamming a 65 on the home links. Coach Charles Hockenberry has three top returnees from this team plus outstanding sophomore Dave Spannbauer, to bolster the 1964 version of the University linksmen. Ten matches are scheduled in addition to the Southern Conference tournament to be held in Myrtle Beach, S. C.

TENNIS

The 1963 tennis squad gained a 9-1 mark, the best record in the last 20 years. The team claimed its first win in history over Penn State and also defeated arch-rival Pitt, while its only loss was to William and Mary. The team came in fifth in the Southern Conference tournament against top southern stars. Only captain Ned (Buzzy) Ragland and Warner DuBose will be lost to the 1964 team. Returnees for Ruel Foster's team include student body president and captain, Byron Kallam, Chuck Bibbee, Jay Fast, Dick Garrett, Howard (Buck) Crews and Doug Huff.

Kneeling: Dick Garrett, Byron Kallam, Warner DuBose and Jay Fast.

Don Sweeney and Roger Meador make distance running look easy.

TRACK

The 1963 Mountaineer track squad came in sixth in the Southern Conference, gaining a 4-1 regular season mark in the progress. The team, coached by Stan Romanoski, won the W.V.U. Invitational, beat Bethany, and defeated Southern Conference foes V.P.I. and V.M.I. The lone loss came at a triangular meet in Pittsburgh with host Pitt and Penn State. The cindermen are expected to field one of the school's outstanding teams in 1964. Outstanding sophomores such as high jumper Maurice Moon, shotputter Jim Karwoski, and pole vaulter Ed Juraw. Returnees Phil Edwards (broad jump), and distancemen Roger Meador, Don Sweeney and Joe Kubic always give good showings against the opposition. An outstanding mile relay team was expected for the spring of 1964.

The best thing to do between events is rest.

SOCCKER

The University soccer team, in its third year at W.V.U. had a very successful season compiling a 7-3 record. Two wins over Fairmont, and other victories over Virginia Tech, Goshen (Indiana), Davis and Elkins, and West Virginia Wesleyan helped the University's 12th varsity sport gain status in this fall activity. Leading players included co-captains Al Barker and Jay Morris, Joe Miller, and Edgar (Spike) Hickman. Barker was the leading scorer on the team for the last two years; Morris was an All-South honorable mention selectee; Miller and Hickman were All-South honorable mention. Two outstanding players from Tanganyika, Stan Mhina and Peter Mpanga, played on the team that lost only to Pitt, Ohio State and Frostburg. Sam Maurice, who helped initiate the ancient sport through the intramural program, served his initial year as head coach.

SWIMMING

Lack of depth again plagued the University swimming team as it suffered a third straight losing campaign. Coach Ray Riordon, in his initial season, had only six swimmers and a diver on the squad that won many first places, but didn't have the personnel needed to win the close meets. Leading scorer, sophomore Phil Minnes, and the co-captain Crago brothers, Ron and Larry, were the bright spots in an otherwise dismal campaign. Diver Ron Crago set a new point record for the one-meter diving board and won over 20 consecutive meets in two years, while also winning the Southern Conference title in 1963. Brother Larry also placed first in the backstroke events in the Southern Conference meet.

FRESHMAN SPORTS

Practically all University varsity sports are represented on the freshman level. However, not all of them play a regular schedule with other first-year teams. Football and basketball plebe teams are on a competitive basis with other institutions. Wrestling, baseball, track and cross-country field teams that compete when matches can be arranged during the season.

The freshman basketball team, tutored by Quentin Barnette, compiled an 8-7 record during the 1963-64 season. Dave Palmer, a 6-0 guard from Mercer, Pa., led the team in scoring and was one of four scholarship recipients. The others on scholarship are 6'8" Bob Benfield, 6'10" Bob Watson and 6'3" Jerry Meadows.

The freshman footballers, mentored by Ed Shockey, won one of three contests. It was a come-from-behind effort against Ohio University in the season finale. Quarterback Jim Sypult led the win with an all-around effort. Other outstanding members of the 30-man squad included Doug Stanley (hb), Pat Buratti (t), Frank Malardie (g), and Joe Taffoni (t).

INTRAMURALS

Softball is a big sport for intramurals in the spring.

A smashing serve in table tennis competition.

Time out to talk to the tennis coach.

Touch football . . . the implicit intramural sport.

The Intramural Activities Program is designed to provide recreational opportunities for all students, faculty, and staff members of West Virginia University. For every college man or woman, there is a sport he or she enjoys, a team on which to play, and fair and even competition. Approximately 50 per cent of the entire student body participates each year in the athletic programs through the Intramural Department.

Among other things, intramurals offers participation to college life. It enables the student to make many new and worthwhile friendships, an outlet for relief from the strain of continuous mental effort, and it provides much-needed activity for the proper functioning of vital organs in the body. The development of a healthy, vigorous, well-coordinated body makes for healthier development of mind and spirit as well. This idea is as old as the ancient Greeks' philosophy of education, but is often forgotten.

Make that strike!

The charging Mountaineer, exuberant cheerleaders, jesting Fi Batars, a dedicated broadcaster, these are instruments of University spirit. This is the spirit which is felt in the thunder at the Field House and sensed in the roar at Stadium Field. This is the spirit heard over the air-waves and seen in win-loss records. It is a mighty force, an important influence. It is the outgoing enthusiasm of a proud student body.

MONTICOLA'S TOP SIX ATHLETES FOR 1963-64

RON CRAGO: Outstanding University diver. Won 24 out of 25 dual meets in his college career in one meter diving competition.

TOM LOWRY: Honorable mention All-American by U.P.I. All-Southern Conference first string 1963 and 1961, second string 1962. He became the 11th player to score more than 1,000 points in his college career. In his senior year he was high scorer for the team, leading rebounder and high man at the free throw line. He also had the highest shooting percentage average for the team.

JOHN RADOSEVICH: A junior southpaw pitcher. Undefeated in his sophomore year with an 8-0 record. He set a new strike out record for one season—56. He averaged 15 strike outs per game and a 1.75 earned run average. Radosevich is one of the few men to ever be given a scholarship in his freshman year. His pitching in the tournament gave W.V.U. the Southern Conference title in 1963.

PETE GOIMARC: All-Southern Conference center three years in a row, 1961-62-63. Honorable mention All-American 1963. Tri-captain in 1963. Was leading tackler and leader in tackle assists for 1962 and 1963.

JIM JIOIO: A junior wrestler. Jioio holds one of the best records in the history of the school—26-2-1 for two years action. Of his 26 wins 13 came by pins.

JERRY SPENCER: All-American gymnastic performer. Led the team to its best record in history in 1962 (8-1), and also a winning season in 1963. He scored 40 per cent of the team's points in 1962 and exactly one half of the team's points in the 1963 campaign. He is a very versatile athlete being able to compete equally well in any one of the six different events in gymnastic competition.

CLASSES

Editor:

BARBARA DOWNEY

Here is the nucleus of the University. On the following pages are the students who represent the forward-looking spirit of Mountaineers. Here also the deans of the many colleges can be seen. Each dean is accompanied by students pursuing interests in each field. The fields of endeavor are varied. The students are varied. Each one has an individuality which must not be forgotten.

Throughout the opening portions of this book, the editors have attempted to give the reader a glimpse into the life of the West Virginia University campus. Here, in the classes section, a tangible realism is introduced. Students are presented as they are: holding class rank; coming from hometowns. And the schools are represented close to the students with whom they work and serve.

ADVERTISEMENTS

SYMBOL OF ACCOMPLISHMENT

As each graduate cherishes the letters of a degree as a mark of accomplishment, so is the symbol "PPG" highly regarded by Pittsburgh Plate. This symbol on a company product signifies the ultimate in quality of workmanship and performance. It is the mark of highest accomplishment.

PPG wants and needs promising college graduates to help continue the company's outstanding accomplishments and impressive record of sound growth for its ever-expanding operations in glass, paint, chemicals, brushes, plastics and fiber glass.

SYMBOL OF SERVICE

Serving Homes, Industries and Institutions in West Virginia

From the steel city of Weirton
a salute to the West Virginia Centennial

What has steel meant to us? Seventy years before West Virginia gained statehood, crude iron furnaces dotted its hills and valleys, setting the stage for the growth of an important industry.

Now, in the year of our state's Centennial, modern steel plants lend strength to West Virginia's industrial might and serve her people with the million-and-one everyday steel items that make life more enjoyable. Steel has become a symbol of progress for West Virginians . . . and at Weirton Steel we're proud of our role in helping make it so.

*Thomas A. Edison
Hall of Fame*

Opportunities Like Edison had are WAITING FOR YOU

The inventions of Thomas Edison have affected the lives of people everywhere. They have created entire industries — ours, for example.

Under America's Free Enterprise system, inventive people like Edison can expect special compensations — profit, honor and satisfaction.

The hope of attaining such rewards has been one of our nation's greatest incentives to progress. It is a goal that prods imaginative minds in their quests for new products and methods.

Not everyone can be a Thomas Edison. However, every trained, dedicated graduate can anticipate a full measure of our society's rewards. All it takes is a willingness to work harder and contribute more.

An Investor-Owned Public Utility

A meeting place of friends and ideas.

As a yearbook editor, wouldn't you like—

✓ complete creative art assistance in planning and designing your book

✓ actual known production performances (by records) of substantially less than 10 weeks, as required by most yearbook manufacturers. No contract claims, either, of an additional 4 days on delivery for each 1 day any deadline is missed

✓ an association with a firm who has specialized in designing yearbooks perhaps longer than any other company

✓ our insistence of your reading and checking page proofs to avoid (or at least minimize) possible glaring errors in the completed edition

✓ an all out effort to please you in design, quality, and service at competitive prices

What more could you ask?
